U.S. Senator Calls Miners' Head Menace

Labor Urged to Oust Lewis

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Allen Ellender, Democrat, Louisiana, urged in a Senate speech today that labor organizations act to oust John L. Lewis as a leader, "before it is too late."

Describing Lewis as "a traitor to our American ideals and a menace to the peace and prosperity of our nation," Ellender said public patience has reached the breaking point because of the interruption threatened to defence production by the strike in coal mines supplying steel mills.

"Do not force Congress," Ellender said in a plea addressed to the laboring men, "into a position where it may be compelled to pass legislation that will take away from you some of your most cherished rights."

A conference today between Lewis and Myron C. Taylor, former board chairman of United States Steel Corporation, held the decision on immediate reopening of strike-bound captive coal mines.

The meeting had a last-chance quality about it, for President Roosevelt was considering action and Congress, angry and impatient, seemed ready to take drastic steps of its own to eliminate time-consuming industrial walk-outs.

In congressional eyes the captive mine dispute in which 53,000 are on strike, was rapidly becoming a symbol of the whole problem of work stoppages affecting defence, and the pressure for action increased with the overnight threat of a general strike of airplane factory workers in five eastern states.

The general strike threat arose from the protracted C.I.O. dispute with Air Associates Inc. at Bendix, N.J. Richard Frankenstein, national director of the C.I.O. union involved, telegraphed President Roosevelt that unless the controversy could be settled to the union's satisfaction by Thursday, he had no recourse but to use the economic strength of the union to protect its members.

Final Bulletins

November to See Crucial Period

TEHERAN, Iran (AP)—Col. Ivan Yeaton, U.S. military attaché at Moscow for two years, left by train today for the Persian Gulf on his way to Washington to report on the military situation of the U.S.S.R.

Other passengers aboard the plane which brought Yeaton here said Soviet armies, despite fearful casualties, are continuing to fight back. They said the first 15 days of November probably would be the most crucial period in the war on the eastern front.

Ascap Signs

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers said this afternoon that contracts would be signed later in the day with the National Broadcasting Company and Columbia Broadcasting System, ending a disagreement that kept Ascap music from most stations since January 1.

Fierce Owl Killed

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. (CP)—A huge grey owl which had attacked cyclists en route to work at Terminal Grain elevators here this week was shot and killed today by Slim Harris, watchman at one of the elevators.

During the week the owl, which had a five-foot wingspread, snatched hats from heads of several men riding their bicycles.

Gen. Guilty Dead

BERLIN (AP)—Maj.-Gen. Jean Marcel Guilty, 67, former military governor of Metz and commander of the French 6th army, was disclosed this evening to have died October 10 in German custody at Dresden. He had been a prisoner of war there since his capture in June, 1940.

Kearny Hit While Aiding Ship

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new report on the torpedoing of the U.S. destroyer Kearny disclosed late this afternoon that the warship was assisting a merchant vessel to fight off a submarine attack at the time she herself was struck and severely damaged.

The report, from Secretary of the Navy Knox, also disclosed that the torpedo which struck the destroyer was one of three fired at her some time after she had released depth bombs in assistance to the merchant vessel.

One of these torpedoes, according to this advice, passed astern of the ship, one passed ahead of her and the centre one struck her amidships causing the damage to her boiler room and mid-section and costing 11 dead and 10 wounded.

Today's report was the first official confirmation that the 11 men were considered as dead. Previously they had been reported missing.

Power in Hospital

OTTAWA (CP)—Air Minister Power entered hospital today for treatment for quinsy. At his office it said the expectation was that he would be back at work within two or three days.

Cold at Dover Strait

LONDON (CP)—A fine snow—first of the season—fell over the Straits of Dover today and an icy northeast gale swept the sea.

Frenchmen Arrested

ABBEVILLE, Occupied France (AP)—Arrest of 28 persons in the Vimy and Pontieu regions near here was disclosed today in an announcement which claimed all "leading Communists" in the area now are in custody.

Ruby Keeler Married

NORTH HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ruby Keeler, former wife of Al Jolson, was married today to John Lowe, Pasadena businessman, in St. Charles Cathedral by Rev. Father H. C. Meade. The actress and Jolson were married September 21, 1928, and divorced December 26, 1939.

Major Jukes Elected

WINNIPEG (CP)—Delegates attending the first national "Democratic Monetary Reform" movement convention here today elected provincial directors from six of Canada's nine provinces. Maj. A. H. Jukes of Victoria was elected provincial director for British Columbia.

1st Touch of Winter

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Snow, first of the season in some sections, fell in Minnesota today, with more promised tonight and Thursday along with colder weather. Temperatures in Minnesota and the Dakotas were generally in the low thirties.

ONLY TWISTED METAL REMAINS of a large bus after it sideswiped the wall of a culvert near Clanton, Ala., burst into flames when the gas tank exploded. Fifteen were known dead, five "missing" and eight hurt in the tragedy.

Nazis in Crimea, Moscow Holds

German assault troops were claimed by Nazi sources to be gaining ground steadily late today in a breakthrough into the Crimea Peninsula—scene of bloody conquests by Goths, Huns, Mongols and Turks for 1,700 years—while to the north, the Russians said their armies were counter-attacking fiercely in all main sectors around Moscow.

The Moscow radio said the Germans had been thrown back on the defensive in the Kalinin sector, 95 miles northwest of the U.S.S.R. capital, where Nazi losses were placed at 5,000 men, 40 guns and 32 mortars.

Other Soviet counter-blows were reported smashing at the Nazi siege armies around Moshaisk, 57 miles west of Moscow, and Maloyaroslavl, 65 miles southwest.

Moscow Will Stand, Russians Declare

Dispatches from the capital said the Germans had lost 60 per cent of their fighting strength in battering at Moscow's defences in the past few days.

Military sources were quoted as saying Russian artillery was laying down a barrage so fierce as to make Moscow's defences impenetrable.

"It now has become clear," one dispatch said, "that despite the fact the Germans have brought up strong and extensive reserves and a large amount of material in the last few days, they will not take Moscow."

It was admitted that a German advance to Volokolamsk, 65 miles northwest of the city, had complicated the position of the defenders, but on the southwest, around Maloyaroslavl, the Red army's counter-attacks were said to be growing in intensity and scope.

Enemy Makes Gain Toward Tula

The Moscow radio was heard in London late today saying the Germans had succeeded in advancing a little northward toward Tula, munitions making centre, 110 miles from Moscow in the Orel sector.

An earlier Red army bulletin had said Gen. Gregory H. Zhukov's defence forces, under no-retract orders, had recaptured four villages northwest of Moscow.

German military reports conceded the Russians were launching strong counter-attacks, especially in the Kalinin sector.

Threat to Rostov Reported Growing

The German breakthrough into the Crimea, site of Russia's Black Sea naval base at Sebastopol, coincided with another grave threat on the southern (Ukraine) front, where Axis troops were reported storming at the gates of Rostov-on-Don.

Soviet dispatches said Red army engineers already were planting death-trap mines in Rostov and preparing if necessary to leave the city of 500,000 a smoking ruin.

The main German attacking column was said to be only 10 miles from the centre of the big Don River port, which guards the northern approach to the Caucasus oilfields. In Berlin, Nazi military commentators said that once the city had fallen, the way would be open for swift armored divisions to strike south toward the nerve centre of the oil region at Makhkop, 175 miles below Rostov.

TODAY'S WAR MAP—While Soviet leaders say Moscow is safe, with Russian forces strongly counter-attacking on that sector, the most critical position for the Russians today is at the southern end of the long line, north of the Black Sea. There enemy forces are reported only 10 miles from Rostov, big Don River port.

The Russian newspaper Pravda acknowledged "great danger" at Moscow, the Donets basin, the Crimea and Rostov, but declared that Hitler's prediction of victory before winter had collapsed.

Germans Throw in All Available Forces

Pravda said the Nazi high command had thrown almost the entire German land army, artillery and tanks and nine-tenths of the air force into the Russian campaign.

Travelers arriving outside the U.S.S.R. from Kuibyshev, auxiliary Soviet capital, said the first 15 days of November would probably be the most crucial period in Russia's struggle.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters claimed that three German divisions—about 60,000 men—succeeded in breaking through Red army defences into the Crimea after 10 days of hard fighting.

The reported break presumably occurred at the entrance to the Perekop Isthmus, a four-mile wide bottleneck linking the Crimea and the U.S.S.R. mainland, which has been the scene of bitter fighting.

Nazi shock troops, attacking with strong aerial support, cracked the Soviet defences and captured 15,700 prisoners, 13 tanks and 109 cannon, the German communiqué claimed.

"Pursuit of the defeated enemy has begun," it added.

Aside from the Sebastopol base, the Crimea is strategically important for two other reasons:

1. Its eastern extremity guards the narrow strait into the Sea of Azov.

2. Troops crossing the strait would have a short-cut route into the Caucasus.

Sinking of U-Boats Kept Secret By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Navy Secretary Frank Knox said today the United States navy probably would apply a policy of secrecy to the sinkings of any German submarines in engagements with American war vessels.

He declined either to confirm or deny reports, brought to his attention at his press conference, that some German submarines had been sunk.

Told that "rumors and reports of the sinking of subs" had been current here and elsewhere for some time, he said nothing could be said about that and continued with a discussion of British war policy on such things.

The reason for withholding information about submarine sinkings, the secretary said, is that mystery affects the "morale of the crews of the enemy. . . . They go out and never come back."

Britain's Greatest War Aces Go to U.S. Army Air Corps

Six of Britain's highest-ranking air aces have crossed from Canada to the United States, where they will be temporarily attached to the U.S. Army Air Corps "to swap ideas." One of them has the V.C., all have won decorations for their superb work in the Battle of Britain, at Dunkerque and since. Left, Wing Commander A. G. Malan,

D.S.O. and bar, D.F.C. and bar, credited with 35 enemy planes. Centre, Group Captain C. Boothman, A.F.C. Right, Wing Commander R. S. Tuck, D.S.O., D.F.C., and two bars, credited with 29 enemy craft. Retiree about their personal exploits, the fliers said they were going to U.S. to "give them all the information we can and probably pick up a few ideas ourselves."

'This Isn't England' Warspite Pair Told

SEATTLE — Next time two youthful sailors from the battleship Warspite walk along a highway here they will keep to the left. The pair kept to the right on the highway near Kirkland early Sunday, and State Patrolman H. R. Ferguson arrested them after they had disobeyed his warning to walk at the left side of the road facing oncoming traffic.

"It's done the other way around in England," the sailors told Ferguson, who reminded them, on the way to the county jail, that this isn't England. Charged with disorderly conduct, they were released to a British officer. They lost two days of a 14-day leave.

Youth Congress

CANBERRA (AP) — The Australian government has granted permission to the youth of Australia to send one delegate to the third World Youth Congress in Mexico, it was announced today. The representative will be Miss Hyril Ross, a schoolteacher.

Whole British Press To Own Reuters

LONDON (CP) — Creation of a trust placing ownership of Reuters in the hands of the British press as a whole and providing for preservation of the news agency's "integrity, independence and freedom from bias" at all times was announced Tuesday night.

The joint announcement by the Press Association and the Newspaper Proprietors' Association carried the government's approval of an arrangement which had been defended by Sir Roderick Jones, former chairman of Reuters, as giving the agency "the sound understructure of a great news agency, ownership by the press of its country," an ideal which he said was exemplified by the Associated Press of America. The Canadian Press, Canada's national news-gathering agency, is organized on a co-operative basis similar to the Associated Press.

Vancouver Flier Missing

VANCOUVER (CP) — F.O. Blake Wallace, 23, son of Clarence Wallace, president of the Burrard Drydock Company Ltd., has been reported missing overseas, his father was advised in a cable from the British Air Ministry.

F.O. Wallace joined the R.C.A.F. at the outbreak of war and had been in England for the past 14 months. Two brothers, Philip and Dick, twins, are also in the R.C.A.F. overseas.

Fewer Tip-offs to Germans

Britain Wants U.S. To Keep Secrets

LONDON (CP) — British officials were reliably reported today to be gravely concerned over the freedom with which military information is circulated in the United States and to be seeking further steps by Washington to keep war matters secret.

The government, it was said, has frequently pointed out to the American Embassy stories given out in the United States which provided important tip-offs to Germany.

President Roosevelt's announcement October 24 that the office of production management after November 1 would keep secret the details of war production was seen here as one fruit of the British complaints.

TANK OUTPUT

Among recent disclosures which the British government thinks United States individuals should not have made were:

1. That United States tank production would not reach 2,000 a month until June, 1942.
2. That Boston was designated a loading port for supplies to Russia and that these would go by the north Atlantic route, a Maritime Commission announcement which the government later said was incorrect.

3. That the United States would manufacture a new type of torpedo for Britain, testimony before the House of Representatives appropriations subcommittee.

DATA ON PLANES

It was also said data on the numbers and types of airplanes manufactured for Britain had been given out until banned by the President.

London took the stand that too much information given in closed committee hearings in Washington was being published and annoyance was expressed at the London newspaper story from Washington which gave the tip-off on the Roosevelt-Churchill Atlantic meeting.

The United States embassy here does not permit any British censor to sit in on press conferences, with the result that often there has been a great deal of scurrying around by British censors to find out what the officials holding the conference actually said.

leanings, in Latin America, would be an embarrassment to the government of Panama, and also to the U.S. government.

BRITAIN CONSULTED

The British government was also concerned in the possibilities of Dr. Arias' future activities in Latin America.

As a belligerent country, Canada has facilities for watching and controlling any undesirable activities on the part of residents which do not exist in neutral countries.

It was recalled that the late Gerardo Machado, former President of Cuba, came to Canada and lived for several years after a revolution in that country had ousted him from office.

Mr. Machado, however, was a political refugee in a clearer sense than is the case with Dr. Arias, for after the revolution he was tried in absentia and sentenced to death.

So far the authorities in Panama have taken no action against Dr. Arias and, according to information reaching here, do not intend to take any, but they have intimated it would be a convenience to all concerned if he could find a place of residence elsewhere.

ARIAS EXPECTED TO LIVE IN CANADA

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian government has approved the application of Dr. Arnulfo Arias, deposed President of Panama, for admission to the Dominion, subject to certain conditions, the Canadian Press learned on good authority today. Considerations of high policy influenced the government.

It is still undecided whether the ex-President will come to Canada, yet the government here has not yet been advised whether the conditions it has set forth for allowing his admission will be met. Dr. Arias was deposed following his opposition to the arming of merchant ships registered in Panama, many of which are owned in the United States. He went to Cuba and later returned to Panama, and now is in Nicaragua.

An informed source stated today that the continued presence of Dr. Arias, who is suspected of pro-Axis or at least pro-totalitarian

RATS, INSECTS WORRY LONDON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Insects and rodents have destroyed some of Britain's food supplies and rats have become a problem in bomb-torn London, two University of California scientists told the National Pest Control Association here.

Dr. Guy F. MacLeod, entomologist, said attempts to store grain and other milled food products in English attics, lofts and basements had resulted in almost complete losses from insects because the places were not properly fumigated.

William B. Herms, professor of parasitology, cited reports that 250,000 rats survived the bombing and fire of "the City," a mile-square section of London which includes St. Paul's Cathedral, and had migrated to other parts of the metropolis, intensifying the problem of disease control and protection of food in storage.

WINNIPEG (CP) — P.O. Geo. Russell Bruce, 27, son of G. A. Bruce of Winnipeg and a member of the R.A.F. American Eagle Squadron, was killed during overseas air operations on October 23, his father was advised today by the British Air Ministry.

No Fish Story

Two ingenious U.S. fishermen have patented a fish "hook" that snags big fish then fires a bullet into them.

DID YOU ever take a good look at a carrot?

Carrots usually come in bunches

In most bunches of carrots some are tall, some short... some stout... some scrawny. You have to take what's in the bunch—good and bad.

And carrot bunches in one store are big—in another store not so big. How can you tell what's good value that way?

So Safeway doesn't bunch carrots. Instead, you choose from a binful of crisp, clean carrots—with the heavy, leafy tops cut off.

You pick out the size and shape and number of carrots you want. And you pay for just what you get, by the pound.

That's the way you now buy bananas, and tomatoes and grapes. Wouldn't it be silly to buy grapes by the bunch?

Today at Safeway, on every kind of fruit and vegetable we carry, you now get all the advantages of free selection and pricing by weight.

Many prominent women tell us they would like every store in town to price all fruits and vegetables by weight. Then you could get just the amount you want, just the sizes you like, and full value for your money every time. Wherever you trade, why don't you ask your store man about it?

Conservative Leader Speaks

Hanson Urges Canada Build Super-trained Army

TORONTO (CP)—The salvation of the British Empire demands immediately "an infinitely greater contribution than we have made" to the prosecution of the war in material resources and trained and equipped manpower, Hon. R. B. Hanson, Conservative House leader, declared Tuesday night in his first public address since his return from a recent 23-day visit to Britain.

Addressing the young men's section of the Toronto Board of Trade, Mr. Hanson said "super-trained manpower is my first and main suggestion to Canada."

"This issue of manpower must be faced realistically. Total effort requires total enlistment at once of all available manpower, whatever system may be required to enlist them. At the bar of history, Canada will be judged by the manpower in which she responds to the challenge to provide manpower—not by the tenacity with which her government clings to any particular system of recruiting."

"History teaches us that victory depends upon a superior number of men, with superior training and superior equipment—and to Canada falls a large measure of the responsibility for creating such a force in this war."

PEOPLE MARVELOUS

Mr. Hanson reviewed his stay in Britain, told of his visits to Canadian airmen and soldiers and his talks with British government leaders, including Prime Minister Churchill. Of the people of Britain, he had found them simply marvelous and with the watchword "No surrender."

The Conservative leader also called for an expansion in production of munitions of war.

"Perhaps this will spell longer hours for our working men, but, if so, I know they will accept them in the same spirit of patriotism and sacrifice as the British workmen have."

Regarding foodstuffs for Britain, Mr. Hanson said Lord Woolton, British Food Minister, had impressed him with the necessity of supplementing the country's milk ration "if the generation now being born and raised in Britain is to attain that standard of health and well-being so essential in the days of warfare and in the post-war period."

PAID THEIR WAY

Mr. Hanson said he and his colleagues had gone to Britain at their own expense.

"I left Ottawa in June with a sense of frustration," he said. "The official Opposition represents a very much larger proportion of the people of Canada than our membership in the House of Commons indicates. We believe we represent a majority of the armed forces of Canada."

He was certain the experience and information obtained during the visit to Britain would prove "of inestimable value to us in our official position, and will enable us to make valuable and constructive contributions to the discussions of Canada's war effort, both in Parliament and in the country."

ARMY MORALE HIGH

Mr. Hanson and his associates found the Canadian army in Britain at a high degree of efficiency and with morale good, but there was a certain degree of resentment, particularly among the men of the 1st Division, at what they consider their enforced inactivity.

No one was to blame for this. Canadian airmen had made "a great name" for themselves, said Mr. Hanson, describing visits to Canadian fliers in three different parts of England.

He described the navy, going silently about its hazardous duties, as "positively the bulwark of the Motherland against invasion and against starvation."

LABOR'S LESSON

Turning to labor problems, he spoke of British labor's decision to forego all strikes for the duration, and declared:

"What an object lesson for Canada! No traveling delegates from the C.I.O. in England. Labor leaders in England have accepted the task of helping to govern the country and with the war as part of their job. Mr. (Labor Minister) Bevin... acts and speaks with authority."

"No timid governmental policy there. No appeasement, either for the employer or the employed."

"What a contrast to Arvida or Cape Breton!"

Canada needed a labor policy "which all may understand." It should be arrived at after consultation with employers and employees, "and then it should be mandatory for all concerned. The primary principle should be laid down that nothing should be allowed to interfere with war or other production."

Regarding foodstuffs for Britain, Mr. Hanson said Lord Woolton, British Food Minister, had impressed him with the necessity of supplementing the country's milk ration "if the generation now being born and raised in Britain is to attain that standard of health and well-being so essential in the days of warfare and in the post-war period."

THREAT IN EIRE

Mr. Hanson pictured Eire as "the backdoor menace" to Britain, because of her neutrality, and said he had been told Germany's diplomatic mission in Dublin had risen from 50 to upwards of 2,000.

"Does that mean anything?" he asked. "Well, it does to the man on the street in Britain."

An invasion of Eire by Germany, a challenge to the very life of Britain, is not beyond the range of probability, Mr. Hanson said.

"In fact, it is a very challenging possibility, and constitutes a menace to the safety of Britain which cannot be underestimated."

types, following hard on the heels of his invading army, already have begun the task of converting to German use the huge Ukrainian farmlands west of the Dnieper River—but from present indications Europe's so-called breadbasket will be empty this winter.

In normal times this conquered area, roughly half the size of British Columbia, produced millions of tons of wheat annually, much of which found an outlet through Odessa.

In the aftermath of war, however, the bulk of the wheat acreage is lying idle and not even a fishing smack is navigating out of this once-busy Black Sea port.

Many difficulties must be overcome before this agricultural region can start feeding Europe again. Work animals and tractors taken for war purposes, as well as other livestock and implements destroyed or removed under Stalin's scorched earth policy, must be replaced.

Nobody Wants New York Chateau

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP)—An 86-room French chateau, once owned by the late financier Otto H. Kahn, was put on the auction block—and there were no bidders. The mansion and six acres of adjoining land went by default to Suffolk County to satisfy a $9,842 tax judgment. Kahn was said to have spent $5,000,000 on the estate.

Jukes Opposes Centralization

WINNIPEG (AP)—A. H. Jukes, delegate from Victoria, Tuesday told the national convention here of "Democratic Monetary Reform" that any attempt at "centralization of power as exemplified in Germany" must be avoided in Canada.

"Control of policy must reside in the people rather than in an administration or in credit," he said.

"We must avoid any attempt in Canada towards centralization except where those charged with execution of the war effort consider such to be necessary."

"Any surrender in this respect to central authorities must receive a guarantee that democratic right must be restored at the end of the war."

Mr. Jukes said that two types of thinking are developing. These types, he said, "can be broadly defined as institutional and individualistic, with a tendency to fail to differentiate between idealism and realism, inductive and deductive reasoning where the latter is based on a false premise that the institution must be preserved at the expense of the individual."

"Deification of the state is common to other philosophies besides Nazism and the cardinal fact is overlooked that the institutions exist solely to be of use to man."

"The use of abstract phrases such as 'what is good for Canada' instead of a more realistic 'what is good for Canadians' is an example."

Mr. Jukes said that in order to win the war "we must be ready and willing to scrap any system which is not delivering the goods and to be ready to adopt any system that will."

Any argument that the best way to stop wars was to abolish nationalities was similar to saying that the best way to stop fighting between individuals was to abolish individuals.

Roosevelt Speech Still Disturbs Nazis

BERLIN (AP)—German spokesmen, still fuming over President Roosevelt's Navy Day speech, challenged the President today to produce a map which he said revealed German aspirations in South America.

If such a map exists, the spokesmen challenged the President to prove it authentic.

Authorized Germans studied recently published maps of South America and speculated whether the President referred to any of these.

They distributed to foreign correspondents photograph copies of one recent map which they said appeared in the August number of Fortune magazine and showed South America as a sort of political question mark.

The spokesman said that by refusing to reveal the documents

Asked whether the President's speech would affect diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States, the spokesman said "we have other things to worry about."

Liberalism Sustained

NOVA SCOTIA'S ELECTORS HAVE thought fit to endorse the government of Premier A. S. MacMillan. At the time of the dissolution of the last Legislature—with two vacancies—he headed his party of 22 Liberals, who were opposed by five Conservatives and one member of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, the latter having gained a seat from the administration in a by-election held on December 5, 1939, by winning a three-cornered contest in Cape Breton Centre with a Liberal and an Independent as his rivals. On that occasion the C.C.F. bid netted for its candidate 3,093 votes. The government's nominee polled 2,614, and the Independent, 1,229. What could have or might have happened had it been a straight fight between two aspirants is one of those speculations in which it is not necessary to indulge. In the new Parliament, however, the opposition will comprise four Conservatives and three representatives of the C.C.F., the government following having added one to its total at dissolution—23 compared with 22 in a House of 30 members.

On the eve of the election in this traditionally Liberal province, however, the 69-year-old Premier announced that he felt satisfied his government would be returned. Thirty-nine-year-old Conservative opposition leader Leonard W. Fraser was equally confident of victory; he ran third in the two-member riding of Cumberland, where a Liberal and a Conservative were elected. The latter's defeat, incidentally, is a repetition of Nova Scotia's political history. In the general elections of June 29, 1937, opposition leader Gordon Harrington met a similar fate in a resounding victory for the administration of Premier Angus Macdonald, now Minister of National Defence for Naval Services in the King cabinet. This was regarded as a bitter blow to Conservatism in general, because it had been seriously suggested that the oppositionist chief possessed the qualifications for federal leadership; the National Conservative Party of Canada at that time was surveying the field for a successor to Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, who had announced his contemplated retirement—as a result, of course, of his party's staggering defeat in 1935.

Nova Scotia's verdict is another blow to Conservatism in Canada. Irrespective of the record of the Liberal administration in the last eight years—which, like that of the Pattullo government in British Columbia, has been uniformly good—the attitude of the people in the Maritime Province emphasized the popular and widespread view that Toryism, even in its less potent form expressed by the milder term of Conservatism, is as extinct as the dodo. Nor is this latest reflection of the public view anything which need cause surprise. During the progress of the war, and especially when peace shall be restored to the world, only progressive policies that recognize and actively attempt to remove those practices of the old prewar era will obtain the sanction and support of the Canadian people. The record of Toryism in this and other British countries contains little from which encouragement for the future may be derived.

A Boomerang Tax

CANADIANS RECEIVING INTEREST OR dividend income from investments in the United States are finding 27½ per cent deducted. The 1941 United States tax law now in effect provides for such deduction on income paid to residents of another country, including Canada. This tax bears heavily on individuals dependent on American income, including American citizens resident in Canada as well as Canadians with United States holdings. A number of both already have been compelled to leave Victoria and establish permanent residence south of the border to escape the 27½ per cent tax. The levy is thus working to reduce the volume of U.S. exchange available to Canada.

Under the Reciprocal Tax Convention of 1936 between Canada and the United States, each country levied a 5 per cent tax on income payable to residents in the other country. Last year Canada raised its withholding tax from 5 to 15 per cent, in the expectation of its producing $30,000,000 extra revenue. The United States replied by raising its tax to 16½ and in the 1941 tax bill increased it to 27½ per cent.

An analysis indicates that Canada is now actually losing more in taxes than we had hoped to gain when Ottawa ended the 5 per cent agreement. The Financial Post declares that all the trouble could have been avoided, as inquiry beforehand would have revealed some of the potential dynamite in the measure. Thought should have been given to the attitude of American investors who had bought Canadian bonds in good faith.

Fortunately, a way for equitable compromise in a new reciprocal agreement has been left open in the new U.S. tax law. There should be no delay in taking steps to bring this about, especially when Canada under the present arrangement is losing needed foreign exchange, tax revenue, moneyed residents and the good will of American investors.

Only honest criticism we ever heard of the Magnot Line was that fortresses can't fall back to a previously designated position.

Showmanship

TWO TURKISH GENERALS HAVE been guests at Adolf Hitler's headquarters on the Russian front. We are told by Berlin that they obtained "an impressive picture of the achievements and successes of German troops and their Allies." No doubt; Turkish generals got a glimpse of General Sir Archibald Wavell's triumphs over the armies of Italian Marshal Rodolfo Graziani last winter. They went back to Ankara much perplexed; they had learned more about mechanized warfare than they could hope to glean from the detailed reports of the quick dash of the Nazi Wehrmacht through the Low Countries in May and June of last year. The Turkish government suddenly realized how woefully deficient its forces were in mechanized equipment. Is it not reasonable to assume that this revelation had something to do with the political and diplomatic actions which the men of Ankara have conducted in the meantime?

But against the impressions gained from the "tour of inspection" of the eastern front—made much of by the Nazi hierarchy on the morrow of President Roosevelt's Navy Day address—must be set the steadfast refusal of the Turkish government to accede to the almost frantic demands which Reich's economic expert Dr. Clodius recently made in the vital matter of chromium supply. Turkey refused to budge from her contractual word to Britain; the best she could do for her German commercial suitor was to promise half her exportable surplus of this commodity—at the beginning of 1943. Between now and then the United Kingdom will get it and divide it, as required, with the United States.

Admittedly, Turkey is in a difficult position. She has been threatened and cajoled in turn by the most astute of totalitarianism's high-pressure salesmen. And the progress of events in Russia has naturally increased the tenacity of the situation in which she finds herself. It is becoming increasingly clear, moreover, that sooner or later—depending largely on what happens on the eastern front and in the areas washed by the Mediterranean—the Ankara government will have to set its course. It cannot maintain its neutral status as developments in more than one campaign press her politically and territorially. What understanding still exists between the men of Ankara and the British government we do not know. Mr. Eden said in the House of Commons a short time ago that he believed Turkey would live up to her agreements with Britain.

Be this as it may; there is one point worth remembering: The men who compose the government at Ankara are the men who fought with the late Mustafa Kemal Pasha to make the new Turkey what she is today. They know what would happen to them and their country if they were to succumb to the blandishments of Hitler and his gang. Sufficient evidence exists to prove the point.

Will Hamburg Repeat?

AT LEAST ONE GERMAN DAIRY treated itself to a correct interpretation of the most potent part of Mr. Roosevelt's Navy Day address on Monday: The Hamburger Fremdenblatt, once a reputable journal in a city which depended largely for its economic existence and prosperity on the free flow of world trade, declared the presidential announcement to be "the last step to an undeclared shooting war against Germany and her allies." Part of the Fremdenblatt's comments, of course, conformed to the tone of Goebbelsian propaganda and appropriately discounted the ultimate effect of the anti-totalitarian coalition.

Present-day Hamburg is a much battered city; many of its inhabitants remember how its commercial prosperity was affected by the first World War. They have not forgotten how, after the Armistice, the Council of Workmen and Soldiers assumed complete political power in the city and endeavored to form a state of Great Hamburg; but after a conflict with the soldiers of the German Reich, the movement was suppressed. Again in October, 1923, however, serious riots broke out. Barricades were erected in the streets and severe fighting took place; and the rising was not put down until a cruiser and three torpedo-boats entered the harbor and landed marines to assist the police.

Commercial Hamburg for a long time after Hitler assumed power in 1933 looked with disfavor on the policies which the men of Berlin obviously intended to follow. But open opposition, of course, was out of the question; the general blood purge of June, 1934, removed its last vestiges. It is nevertheless not fantastic to suggest that if and when internal political disintegration should manifest itself, the stolid burghers of this great and ancient Hanseatic city might well form the vanguard of revolt.

ODDS AGAINST INVASION

From Ottawa Journal

You cannot land a force with merely rifles and bayonets to face all the artillery and tanks available in France," said Lord Moyne in the House of Lords, speaking for the government.

To land an expeditionary force with enough men and enough equipment to defeat Germany's waiting armies is to accomplish what is almost the impossible. We have been hoping to see Germany try an invasion of England, confident that Britain's forces would administer a terrific defeat to the Nazis because of the odds against the seaborne attacker. How much greater are the odds, then, against the success of Britain's relative small and probably relatively ill-equipped army against the land might of the Hun? As Lord Moyne has said:

"I cannot imagine anything which would suit Hitler's move better than if we adopted the Chinese method of committing suicide on your enemy's doorstep."

Bruce Hutchison

THE AUGUST NEW YORK TIMES has recently been discussing the present rage for quiz programs. Rightly it finds that all these devices have a great capacity for spreading useless knowledge. That is the essential fact about them—the utter uselessness of the knowledge contained in them. Over and over again it has been proved that experts and well-trained minds fail whenever they are subjected to these absurd questions and, indeed, if any man succeeds in answering most of them you can be sure he is not much use for anything else. Put him out in the world to face a practical problem of agriculture, let us say, and the fellow who has all the botanical answers probably cannot grow a carrot.

You take the eminent jury of "Information Please." Fine fellows all, brains filled with the most astounding ragbags of information like my grandmother's attic in Ontario. But would you find them in charge of the country's government, in place of men who would assuredly fail in all the quiz questions? No, you would not dare put them even into a city council. You would not risk putting them in charge of any important activity of any sort. As a matter of fact, I don't think it would be safe to let them out alone at night without a guard.

In America today they pay high for any brain which is unable to concentrate on anything, but knows all about everything which has no significance, value or use. As the Times says, you can earn $100 on the radio by knowing how many U.S. Presidents were bachelors, but you cannot earn 10 cents by knowing how many Presidents did anything useful, or by knowing what the presidency means, how it functions and where it is going. You can win a prize by knowing whether the butler or the chauffeur killed the victim in a popular detective story, but no one will pay you anything for having a deep knowledge of English literature.

So long as the quiz is accepted for what it is, a silly game to divert the mind from real knowledge and the facts of life, it can be useful, in the same sense that bridge is useful, or badminton or poker. The trouble is that people are beginning to think that the quiz has some relation to knowledge, are beginning to judge a man by his ability to answer a long list of trick questions published in a magazine or shouted from the radio. On this subject I can speak with feeling. I cannot answer any question in a quiz, and I have no real knowledge either. For men like me, and there must be millions of us, there is no place in the modern world at all. No one ever offers us a prize for our devotion in listening to the quiz and the chaotic minds that conduct it.

SMOKE

THE TIMES also devotes its best thought on the editorial page to the more pleasing subject of woodsmoke. "The infallible sign of autumn," says the Times, "is the tang of woodsmoke in the evening air." All over the country the tang is perceptible these autumn evenings, says the Times, but I wonder if it ever thrusts its nose out the window from its dwelling just to the west of Times Square? It will smell no woodsmoke there, alas, only the gasoline fumes pouring in from the Great White Way, a block down the street.

That is not the worst of it. Millions of North Americans will smell no woodsmoke this autumn, or any other autumn. They have no fireplaces and they have no wood.

North Americans were once a race of wood burners. Now they are becoming a race of radiator addicts. Why, in the Times' own home town of New York you pay about $35 a cord for fireplace wood (the price has probably gone up since I asked it last year), and when you place a tiny log on the fire—one not more than three inches in diameter—it costs you a dime. An evening's fire will probably run to a dollar. That is why you seldom see one in New York. It is all very well for the Times to ululate about the aromatic scent of applewood, the sparkling quality of cedar, the leathery, wintry smell of oak, but how many of its readers know what it is talking about? How many North Americans know these days? Most of them only know the hissing sound of steam and the smell of oil burning in the basement of an apartment house.

FORTUNATE

I COUNT it one of the first advantages of life here that we know the smell of wood fires and can have all we want. When I remember how they burned tiny chunks of dank maple or elm in England and thought they were providing a fire when they received only smoke, I realize how fortunate we are to live in a timbered country. Still, no man knows the full joy of a wood fire if he has not harvested the wood himself. However small, whether it be only a hunk of driftwood or a sawed-up fence post, the wood cut by your own hands seems to glow with a special brilliance; and in these times if you can produce even a wheelbarrow load of half-rotten oak (as I shall do when this column reaches its dismal end), you have a sudden feeling of virtue, for you have contributed something to the wealth of the world and eased, by just so much, your demands upon the manpower of the nation in wartime.

So I shall go forth now, while there is yet a half hour of light, and make myself a fire for the night. While the editors of the New York Times, having smelled only the ghost of woodsmoke on their typewriters, go home in a subway shelling something else entirely.

SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST

It is one of the ironies of fate that a Liberal government under Mr. King, with his belief in traditional economic liberalism, has had to invoke the most drastic system of planned economy ever attempted by a democracy.

Anyone who thinks Mr. King wanted to do it should have his head read. By training and personal conviction our Prime Minister is the most genuine 19th century Liberal I have ever met. He believes, with every fibre of his being, that "that government is best which governs least." That a government headed by himself would have to hire several thousand officials, who would attempt to fix almost every price and every wage, would have seemed a nightmare to him in his younger days. The logic of events forced him to do it—just as the logic of events will force him to do many more drastic things if the war lasts.

What the world is learning, in the stern school of bitter experience, is that in a struggle for survival nations either meet and beat the pace set by the other fellow—or perish. If Hitler sets forth 30,000 tanks, as he did in Russia, we either have to set forth a greater number, or find some new superior method of offence or defence which will overbalance his advantage.

So with industrial production. If the Nazis harness a whole enslaved continent to pour out war materials to enslave the world still free—the rest of the world must either voluntarily submit to planning just as productive—or finally succumb as Europe has already.

It is a stern choice that the free world must make—for it all comes down to this: Submit to universal conscription under leaders of our own choice in order to escape conquest by those whose avowed purpose is permanent slavery for all men but themselves.

LABOR A PARTNER?

The greatest danger in this country arises from the fact that universal controls must be set up while labor is still mostly unorganized. Labor in Britain can enter the cabinet and fully support the government, because neither the government nor the employers would dream of contesting Labor's right fully to organize and bargain through unions of its own choice.

MORE JOINT DEFENCE

From Vancouver Sun

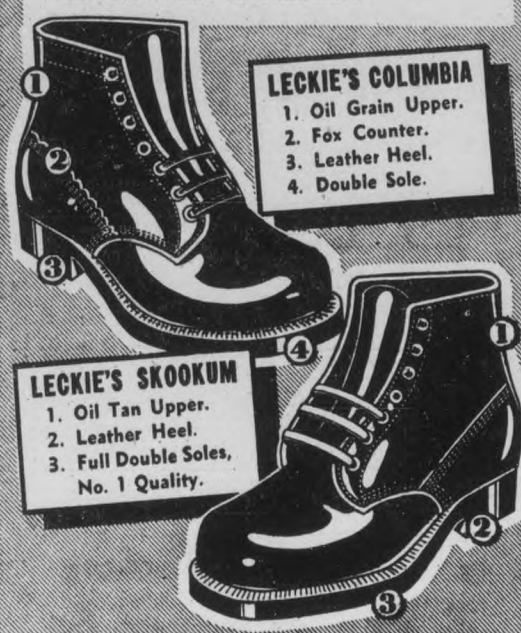

Plans for the joint defence of the Pacific coast of America are going ahead faster than the public has generally realized, we judge from a bulletin issued by Ottawa. As a result of the deliberations of the joint Canadian-American Defence Board, it has been decided to use a series of airdromes all along this coast for the accommodation of planes from both countries. We are not told, and properly, where all the airdromes will be located but doubtless at strategic points from where planes could move quickly against an invader. At the same time it is announced that Canadian coast defence squadrons are being strengthened by the addition of the most modern aircraft.

In both these steps, the bulletin says, progress is "well in hand." Joint defence started on the Pacific coast in the joint planning of Canadian and American fortifications on the Straits of Juan de Fuca. When this newspaper first revealed that joint planning had been undertaken the Canadian government was alarmed lest some of the more foolish people of Canada would object. Instead, all Canada approved. All Canada will approve the larger plans now under way

THE TOMORROW OF TAGORE

From Richmond Times-Dispatch

"We are humble and suffer," once said Sir Rabindranath Tagore of India, "but the morrow shall be ours." The poet of India, who was the first Oriental ever to receive the Nobel Prize for literature, never in his lifetime turned his talents notably toward the uniting of the divided people of India—divided by a multitude of distinctions of race, caste and religion. When he received the Nobel award in 1913, some critics pointed out that he had written nothing that deserved to place him among the first writers of the world. There was more than a little truth in what they said, perhaps, but the prize was quickly followed by a knighthood. Tagore became a poet always acceptable to the British Empire, and a mystic of vast appeal to women's clubs all over the world. In 1916, he beat a hasty retreat from San Francisco when he heard East Indians were plotting against his life.

Tagore was not humble, and did not suffer much. The prophet of the tomorrow he mentioned, is Mahatma Gandhi. He has done more than any other man in the history of India, to unite its people. He is, this little man of Christ-like character, one of the great figures of modern history. As noble of birth as Tagore, Gandhi humbled himself before the least of India's castes. Renouncing all personal ambition, he has devoted his genius to creating a community of power in India that must be respected to-morrow.

The idea of adding dietary essentials to foods goes back to 1855, when a European suggested iodizing natural sea salt.

HE DIDN'T CARE

From Fort Erie Times-Review

A few weeks ago, Marshall Field III, another man of inherited wealth, was interviewed in connection with his announced intention to publish a morning newspaper in Chicago in competition with Col. McCormick's Chicago Tribune. In the course of the interview, young Mr. Field remarked that he didn't know what was going to happen to his money and, he added, "I don't give a damn." Another reporter sought out Mr. Rockefeller and asked him if he agreed with that. "Yes," said Mr. Rockefeller with a grin, "I do. I don't care what happens to Mr. Field's money, either."

I believe that much of the educational work such as the development of a more intelligent and healthier citizenry must be done by the women.—Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, president, General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Pushing a button, one British factory can black out 550,000 square feet of roof lights by shutters in 15 seconds.

AUSTRALIA BUDGET $1,153,750,000

CANBERRA (CP)—Treasurer J. B. Chifley introduced today in Parliament a record Australia budget of $325,000,000 ($1,153,750,000), which includes $217,000,000 for war purposes. Heavier taxation for individuals and companies was proposed.

It was the second budget to be put before the House of Representatives within a month. Arthur Fadden, former Prime Minister, was defeated October 3 on the issue of his budget, which Labor charged failed to provide, among other things, adequate pay for Australia's forces, that its compulsory loan system made sacrifices unequal and that it failed to extend incapacity and old age pensions.

The new budget provides for an increase of 16 cents a day in the pay of members of the active forces against the 15 provided by Fadden. Dependents' allowances also are raised and invalid and old age pensions have been increased from 24 cents to as much as $3.76 weekly.

The Curtin budget estimates war expenditures at the same amount as the Fadden budget, $785,000,000.

The Labor budget proposes mainly to reduce luxury spending by means of taxes on goods and services rather than to impose heavy direct taxation where lower and middle incomes are concerned. Tax rates on incomes up to $4,500 are unaltered. Over that sum the budget calls for tax payments of $2.66 in every $3.20 of income over $7,500 and as much as $2.88 in every $3.20 of income in the highest brackets.

On an income of $7,500 the Fadden government had proposed a tax amounting to 25 per cent of the income, or considerably below the figures set in the Curtin budget.

The ordinary company tax has been raised to 48 cents and the wartime company tax increased fourfold. Increases have been announced in the sales tax, postal telephone charges and customs excise.

Steel Output Jumps

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel production in the United States for the current week will set a new record at 99.9 per cent of capacity, the American Iron and Steel Institute estimated today.

This would top last week's rate by 2.1 points and compare with 96.9 per cent a month ago and 95.7 per cent a year ago.

On this basis the week's production of steel ingots would total 1,650,533 net tons, also a new record high. The previous peak was 1,625,750 tons for the week of October 13.

New London Jauntiness At Absence of Bombs

LONDON (AP)—Prolonged freedom from night air raids is giving London a new jauntiness.

At the outset of the fourth month without an air raid alarm, a large part of the population is out to make the most of the respite and have some fun.

Theatres and motion picture houses, operating until 9.30 or 10 p.m. in many instances, draw large crowds.

QUEUES AT CARS

It is not so easy as it was to get hard liquor—but patrons often stand four-deep in saloons, clubs and at hotel bars.

If the lights were turned on suddenly on certain nights along Piccadilly, in Leicester Square, along Regent Street, or even the Strand, you would see thousands of people out for an evening.

Yet less than a year ago in these very districts bomb after bomb fell for nights in a row.

AT SHELTERS

The difference in the story now is reflected in the shrinkage of the shelter population.

Those regularly sleeping in bunks in subway stations totaled 70,000 at the peak of the raids last spring; now the number is only 28,000.

To stand terrific stresses of fast flying, airplanes are going to need strong material such as steel to replace aluminum, predicts one engineer.

FIRST STREET CAR LIBRARY IN CANADA, perhaps anywhere, has opened up in Edmonton, and in its first week nearly 1,000 persons have taken advantage of this odd venture in culture on wheels. It's a 32-year-old car which ran almost 1,000,000 miles before retiring from passenger service. Now it holds 1,500 books, has a new roof and ceiling, is painted a vivid blue and cream, has 40 electric lights and a new heating system. Because Edmonton is spread out, with the same square mileage as Chicago, the tram, visiting two sections each week for six hours, will give children, particularly, a chance to enjoy books without tramping miles for them. Two experienced librarians are in charge.

Roosevelt's Declaration Interpreted

Speech Means U.S. at War Australian Press Says

MELBOURNE (AP)—That America is at war is the interpretation placed on President Roosevelt's Monday night speech by most of the Australian press, which praises the President's steadfast policy of courage and realism.

The Melbourne Age said the speech has only one logical sequence—full participation in the war if words are to mean anything. The paper said it is no longer possible for America to remain even nominally neutral.

The Melbourne Argus said President Roosevelt is freedom's friend again. He had reiterated the unalterable resolve of his administration, "which reflects the views of an overwhelming majority of the American people to maintain the freedom of the seas for American ships with the frank motive of conveying to the fighting democracies munitions needed to ensure victory over Nazism."

This virtually meant "the United States is at war with Germany. It is none the less real because it is undeclared, but President Roosevelt has never pretended otherwise."

The Melbourne Herald said that while "the United States Congress still discusses the nature of America's neutrality, the United States is at war. Germany has made no formal declaration of war against America, but German torpedoes have sunk American ships and American lives have been lost.

BACKED BY MAJORITY

"Such a speech could not have been made by a leader of a democracy had he not known the vast majority of the people were solemnly behind him. President Roosevelt has led the American nation to a place from where there is no turning back. The destruction of the Axis powers has become as essential to America's survival as the survival of any of the democracies."

Mother, This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Splendid

Saves Real Money. No Cooking. Real Results.

To get really surprising relief from coughs due to colds, you can easily prepare a medicine, right in your own kitchen. It's very easy—anyone can do it—needs no cooking, and tastes so good that children take it willingly. But you'll say it's hard to beat, for quick results.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, and pour it into a 16 ounce bottle. Then add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid cough syrup—about 4 times as much for your money. It never spoils, and lasts a family a long time. And for real, quick relief, it is actually splendid. It works in three ways—loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Daughters of Pity Provided Beds for Children's Ward

Another year of splendid effort on behalf of the children's ward of the Royal Jubilee Hospital was recorded in the annual reports of the Daughters of Pity, the little group of business girls who make this their special cause.

Miss Marjorie Siddall, president, was in the chair. Mrs. Harold A. McCaw, retiring secretary, reviewed the year's activities, showing the ward was supplied with five new beds, and $100 had been voted towards a mobile therapy unit for the hospital. At Christmas time the ward was suitably decorated, but owing to the prevalence of infectious diseases, the annual party was canceled. Gifts were distributed to the children. At Easter, flowers were sent to the ward and each child received a decorated basket.

Money to carry on the work during the year had been raised by means of a white elephant party in November, a contest in December, a blossom-time tea in April, a tag day in May and the Violet Fowkes dance recital in June.

The treasurer, Miss A. E. Hill, reported the year's total receipts as $463.62, and the disbursements $549.94. The largest expenditure for the year was $400, spent on beds for the ward.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss Marjorie Siddall; vice-president, Miss Irene Bannerman; secretary, Miss Alma E. Hill; treasurer, Miss M. Tait; executive committee, Mrs. C. Smith, Miss M. Chrow, Miss I. Edwards; buying committee, Miss C. Couves and Miss Bennerman; refreshment convener, Miss E. Barrowclough.

Miss Lena Mitchell, director of nurses, spoke briefly, conveying the gratitude of the board of directors to the members for their valued assistance. After the meeting, Miss Siddall gave an interesting talk on the history of cosmetics. Refreshments were served.

As a rule, he said, the screen is pro-alcoholic, and Hollywood productions are frequently aggressive liquor propaganda. "Major Barbara" presents the other side. The power of the "trade" over government is portrayed, Major Barbara calling whisky the biggest foe she has to fight in the slums. A Sweater worn day after day without a wash keeps Beaux away

Here's how to keep woollens dainty... new-looking

Want lots of dates? Then never risk daintiness by wearing a sweater day after day without washing it. Wool carries perspiration odor... it's never safe to take a chance!

Dip sweaters in Lux often — to keep them fresh, to protect your own daintiness! A dip in Lux and horrid odor vanishes. And Lux keeps wool soft and fluffy, colors bright. Sweaters dipped regularly in Lux keep in shape, stay new-looking far longer.

SEE HOW QUICK LUX DOES THE TRICK

1. Whip up rich suds with fast-dissolving Lux and lukewarm water.
2. Squeeze garment gently through suds. Do not stretch or twist.
3. Pin into shape and dry flat, away from heat.

Doesn't your sweater NEED a DIP in Lux TONIGHT? A lever product

Britain's Rule of India By Compromise Wise, Club Told

India's response to the Empire's call in the present titanic struggle was convincingly demonstrated recently when a call for 300 men to undertake a special war job resulted in 18,000 applicants. This was one of the many interesting statements made by Mr. Alfred Wharton in his address before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon.

COMPROMISE, NOT SLAUGHTER

His many years' residence in India, during which he was editor of the Madras Times, lent authoritative background to the speaker's address on the subject, "India's Place in the Sun." Defining a place in the sun as "a position in the world commensurate with our requirements and our own importance," he observed that such a place could be obtained "only by forcing our opinion of our own importance upon others by force or by compromise," and expressed the opinion that the British system of governing India was to be commended, in that it was "unravelling the toughest and trickiest of political knots by compromise and not by slaughter."

Sketching the racial and religious differences which prevented unity among the many peoples, castes and sects of India, Mr. Wharton reviewed the political history of this vast country with its 225 distinct languages, unintelligible to each other. While Britain had made every effort to improve the physical and social conditions in India, and Queen Victoria's proclamation had ensured that no native be debarrd from holding any position to which his ability entitled him, the intangible things had been overlooked, and many able men, fired by ambition and self-respect, had been left out of it.

BARS TO UNITY

As long ago as 1821, Sir Thos. Munro had commented that "our laws, by preventing Indians from fullest independence, are more depressing in their effect than our education is elevating." But, despite attempts to bring about a measure of independence for India, the Hindus and Mohammedans could not settle their differences, thus preventing the unity essential for self-government, the speaker noted.

"With one-sixth of the whole population of the British Empire in India, that vast country is like a pendulum, swinging towards us at the present time. But unless we take care it might swing away from us and into the hands of the Nazis," warned the speaker. "But although there has been unrest in India for 50 years, the Quislings don't amount to a row of pins," and he quoted the great Hindu scholar's words:

"We are fighting for civilization, and fighting for civilization is greater than patriotism."

Describing India's immense war effort, Mr. Wharton pointed to the building of tanks, corvettes and mine sweepers, the furnishing of drugs and medical supplies, in addition to the gift of 800,000,000 sandbags. Recognizing its important position, India has been made the headquarters of the Southern Command and as such holds the key place in a grand arch of prepared defence. As their part in the war effort, the landlords had reduced rents for those tenants whose sons were serving in the army.

Mrs. F. G. Aldous, who presided, announced that Dr. Franz Klein, who edited the paper "Free Austria" in London, and is now living in New York, will speak Tuesday afternoon, November 4. Miss J. E. M. Bruce moved the vote of thanks to the speaker.

Miss J. Bulinckx was the soloist, singing "Into the Night" (Edwards) and "The House on the Hill" (Ernest Charles), accompanied at the piano by Miss Doreen Briggs.

In response to the club executive's appeal for donations of wool to be used in the manufacture of blankets for the Red Cross for shipment to Britain, a generous collection of parcels was heaped up in the ballroom foyer, and, in thanking the club members for their gifts, Mrs. Aldous appealed for more wool or loosely-woven woolen material, which may be left at Scarr's Ltd., Yates Street, at the Y.V.C.A., or brought to the club meetings.

Thomas Jefferson introduced one-way traffic into his home, by providing a narrow stair for ascending and another for descending in one hall.

R.A.F. MEN WILL BE special guests at the Hallow'en dance to be held tonight in the S.O.E. hall, when the Youth Victory Club holds its first public social. Miss Vanda Hudson, above, is convening the affair, assisted by the Misses Madeleine Hornsey, Eileen O'Halloran, Violet Norris, Bessie Foster and Kathleen Berry.

Jewish Leader Describes War Work With Children

The tremendous work being done by Canadian Hadassah on war-torn countries, particularly in the care of children, was reviewed to members of the Victoria Chapter Tuesday evening by Mrs. A. Raginsky of Montreal, national president of the Jewish Women's Federation, who is visiting Victoria on a Canadian-wide tour of all chapters of Hadassah in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the organization. Mrs. A. Raginsky used her husband's 10th wedding anniversary present to finance the trip.

PLEDGE $250,000

The sum of $250,000 had been pledged by Canada's Hadassah for work this year, Mrs. Raginsky told members. Last year $186,000 was sent to England for the relief of bomb victims, in addition to the fully-equipped ambulances, the furnishing of a 30-bed ward at Tallow Hospital on Lady Astor's estate, and the building of a military hospital in Palestine for the British wounded, which would be named for the former president, Mrs. H. A. Freeman, O.B.E.

Canadian and American funds will contribute toward the construction of a nursing home in England for the care of infant air raid victims, Mrs. Raginsky reported, explaining that the care of children was Hadassah's special work. Donations are also being given by friends of the late Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, for whom the hospital will be named. The Canadian Red Cross handle all Hadassah contributions, Mrs. Raginsky said.

AMERICAN AID

Efforts to save Jewish children in other European countries have been aided by funds contributed by sympathetic

North Americans. Mrs. Raginsky reported. Many hundreds have been transported to France, Sweden and mostly to England, where 6,000 have been harbored and later established on farms in Palestine.

Members of Hadassah in Palestine, under the leadership of the Hon. Mrs. Edwin Samuel, daughter of Sir Herbert Samuel, were engaged in intensive war work for the thousands of Anzac and Imperial troops stationed there. New army huts are under construction, furnished by Canadian funds.

Canadian Hadassah had sent 3,000 pairs of socks to mine-sweepers in England and $250 and 500 pairs of socks to the Navy League in the past year. From its funds it had also bought $10,000 worth of Canadian War Savings Certificates. This year Hadassah planned to buy two mobile kitchens for the bombed civilians, each kitchen having a capacity for feeding 250 persons at one time.

RELIEF PLEDGES

Mrs. Raginsky was gratified with the pledges of centres across Canada. Toronto had promised $55,000; Winnipeg, $20,000; Medicine Hat, with only 22 families, the sum of $700; Moose Jaw, $1,000; Calgary, $5,000, and Vancouver, $5,000.

The women raised the money with the usual bazaars, teas and bridge parties.

Mrs. Raginsky complimented the Jewish women of Canada for the part they were playing in the community life of every centre, and she praised members of the Victoria Chapter, under Mrs. S. E. Levy, for their generous contributions to the Hadassah war work fund.

Dr. Maude Royden Not Pacifist Now

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. A. Maude Royden, England's famous woman preacher, who was a fighting pacifist in the last war, is a pacifist no longer.

"Mind you, I was not sent by the government," she said Tuesday, following her arrival from England for a lecture tour in the United States. "I was invited by the churches here. I say what I please. I am not trying to win over other pacifists."

"I think war is so appalling I would not with the tip of my finger push any nation into it. I worked hard for the pacifist cause in the last war. This time, if I were a man, I'd fight."

Dr. Royden, who is 65, spoke her convictions in a firm voice at a press conference and used her cane to tap out punctuation to emphatic statements.

She abandoned her pacifist stand, she said, after a long struggle with her conscience. "I concluded that since we had not faith enough to stop the march of evil, we'd have to resort to other means, even war," she said.

Dr. Royden criticized churches and "so-called Christians" freely, saying they were not doing their part to lay the foundations of a just and lasting peace.

She is the only woman the Church of England ever licensed to preach, yet she said she questioned the value of church services as now conducted by all churches including her own.

M. P. McCaffery Dies

VANCOUVER (CP) — Funeral services will be held in Prince Rupert for Michael P. McCaffery, 69, well-known executive in the British Columbia fishing industry and former mayor of Prince Rupert, who died in hospital here Monday.

Mr. McCaffery went to Prince Rupert in 1909 and was mayor there from 1914 to 1916. He played an important role in organizing the Northern Fishermen's Cold Storage Company, a co-operative organization of which he was president. A son, Michael Jr., is serving with Canadian army forces at Victoria.

MOUNT VIEW P.T.A.

A meeting of Mount View High School P.T.A. will be held in the school Thursday evening to afford parents and friends an opportunity to meet the staff and inspect the school. There will be a demonstration of visual education and a program by the students. Refreshments will be served.

St. Mark's W.A. afternoon branch at its meeting Tuesday, with Mrs. D. C. Hughes in the chair, made arrangements for a Hallow'en tea Friday at 3 in the Parish Hall. The evening branch will have charge of a home-cooking stall.

Too Big to Be Conquered

Vastly Different Russia Foreseen As War's Result

By WADE WERNER

WASHINGTON (AP)—When the German high command claims defeat of the Russian armies, it is pertinent to recall that a Russia whose armies have been defeated is a tough customer to handle.

Germany wrecked the Czar's armies in the first Great War and for a while possessed the rich Ukraine, but neither Germany nor the Allied powers which defeated Germany found it possible to control subsequent developments in the vast, sprawling realm.

Perhaps Russia is too big to be crushed; too vast to be truly conquered or even to be dominated from abroad.

Nevertheless, hostile pressure from the outside more than once has produced interesting reactions in Russia.

MUCH LARGER

The Japanese did not subjugate Russia in the war of 1904-05, but the military defeat which they administered to Russian forces in the Far East touched off an abortive revolution some 5,000 miles behind the fighting front. The much greater war which began in 1914 brought an even greater military defeat, and touched off the colossal upheaval which transformed Russia and shook the world. The new Russia had slightly less territory than the old, but loomed much larger in the affairs of men.

Now Russia is in the fiery crucible again, and if past experience is any guide it still will be Russia, running her own show, long after the so-called battle of Russia has been decided.

But what kind of Russia will it be?

The Russia of Nikolai Lenin was a vastly different Russia from the Russia of the Czars, and by 1939 the Russia of Joseph Stalin had become vastly different from the Russia of Lenin.

GREAT CHANGES

Even without the tragic pressure of a great war the passage of time was bringing important changes in the Russian way of life. Now, momentous changes undoubtedly are germinating again in the land of the great revolution.

One possible fundamental change is indicated in the shifting of Russia's centre of gravity toward the East. If the unity of Soviet military command and civil administration is preserved in the process of reorganizing the nation's strength far in the interior, perhaps east of the Urals, the result might be a temporarily smaller but tougher U.S.S.R., but it would be a regime more definitely Asiatic.

Kuibyshev, where the diplomats and the Soviet commissariat of foreign affairs went from Moscow, is on the east bank of the Volga, "where Asia begins."

Brave Deeds Win V.C.'s

LONDON (CP)—Outstanding valor of two tough New Zealand soldiers earned them the Victoria Cross, highest decoration members of the armed forces can win, in the bitterly-contested Battle of Crete.

Second-Lieut. Charles Hazlitt Upham of Christchurch, although twice wounded and suffering from dysentery, led numerous attacks over a period of eight days and helped bring out wounded men under fire. Once when attacked by two Germans he fell and shamed death, later killing both his assailants.

Sgt. Alfred Clive Hulme of Wellington personally stalked and shot 33 enemy snipers during an eight-day period, before he was seriously wounded. Once he penetrated the German lines, killing a mortar crew of four and thus materially assisting in withdrawal of the main defending forces through Stylos.

Only other New Zealanders awarded the V.C. so far in this war is Sgt. Pilot James Allen Ward, who was reported missing in September.

Upham commanded a forward position in the attack on Maleme, May 22, said the official citation. He fought his way forward more than 3,000 yards unsupported by any other arms and against a strongly-organized defence.

At Galatos, May 25, his platoon was heavily engaged by the enemy with mortar and machine-gun fire. When the Germans advanced the platoon killed more than 40 with fire and grenades and forced the remainder to fall back. Later the platoon again had to retire and Upham went to warn other troops they were being cut off.

On May 30, at Sphakia, his platoon had to tackle an enemy party in a ravine. Upham placed his men on a slope overlooking the ravine, then went to the top himself with a Bren gun and two riflemen. "By clever tactics he induced the enemy party to expose itself and then at a range of 500 yards shot 22 and caused the remainder to disperse in panic," the citation said.

Hulme's citation described how he led parties of men to destroy enemy organized parties near Maleme airdrome, May 20 and 21. "Numerous snipers in this area were dealt with by Sgt. Hulme personally; 130 dead were counted. On May 22, 23 and 24 Sgt. Hulme was continually out alone or with one or two men destroying enemy snipers."

Salvage Corps Lists Its Needs

The Salvage Corps of B.C. has released a list of articles which can be salvaged and which can play a part in a more efficient prosecution of the war effort. The Victoria head office is asking anyone willing to take charge of working up a supply and dealing with the disposal of such materials to see A. H. Pease at 1220 Government Street.

The Salvage Corps points out that fats and bones should be saved, although in Victoria there are no facilities to deal with bones. Fats could be saved in smooth-edged tins in the kitchen and could be collected by the municipal garbage systems. The army soap works use reclaimed fats and in Britain it is against the law to waste fats and bones.

Mines, quarries, railways, construction companies and logging camps could be of great help in supplying iron and steel scrap required for the manufacture of bomb casings and in practically all munitions. The Salvage Corps points out that the need for iron and steel is urgent, especially cast iron. They ask anyone possessing the latter to donate it or sell it immediately.

DON'T ROLL TINFOIL

Tinfoil is another necessity, the Salvage Corps accepting "any amount of this, large and small. Officials ask that foil be left flat, not rolled into balls.

Victor and Bluebird gramophone records are now acceptable, these being recooked to produce new ones, thus saving materials now scarce.

At present tin cans are useless. The two useful metals, iron and tin, are too closely united to separate economically. Later, if permitted by law, some jam tins may be used a second time by factories.

Rags comprise one of the most essential materials needed in the war effort and at present are needed badly. Some of the uses are: wiping of machinery, overhauling damaged airplanes, making depth charges and airplane propellers, for paint and varnish shops in plane construction, glueing linen tips to airplane propellers and wrapping engine parts in preparation for shipping. Woolen rags, after sterilizing, shredding and mixing with virgin wool, are made into good army blankets and clothing of warmth and quality.

At present the Salvage Corps is insufficiently assisted and supported to carry on adequately this national work, officials say. They ask for a supply of men and women who have spare time to devote to this work.

HAPPY VALLEY

The annual Halloween masquerade and entertainment for the children of the district will be held in Luxton Hall under the sponsorship of the Happy Valley Parent-Teacher Association, commencing at 7.30 Friday. Classes will include comic, fancy dress and original, with prizes being awarded in four groups, viz., pre-school, junior students, senior students and high school students and adults.

E. Crookford, magician, will entertain, followed by community singing and dancing.

According to an order in 1935, all officers in the Soviet army must take dancing lessons.

Recommend Man For Greenhouse

Appointment of H. Lindsey to the post of greenhouseman and nurseryman at Beacon Hill Park will be recommended to the City Council by the parks committee on the basis of a motion carried by the committee at its meeting Tuesday.

Another recommendation will seek a stop sign on Douglas Street adjacent to the park wading pool.

Checker boards will be painted on the floor of the bandstand and lookout in the same park to provide facilities for indoor games during inclement weather.

The committee further decided to paint direction rings on telephone and light poles to assist tourists to find their way to Butchart's Gardens and to the Island Highway. Rings will be painted on Douglas Street, Pandora Avenue and Quadra Street poles.

Scotland Yard was hunting a criminal but the only clue they had was a strip of six photographs. The strip was sent to a northern town and shortly afterwards the following telegram reached the Yard: "Have found four of the wanted men. Hope to get other two soon."

More than 25,000 letters daily are being received in London by the Airgraph Postal Service. The letters are micro-photographed so they may be sent cheaply to the Middle East by airplane.

Murders in the United States have increased 7.6 per cent during the first six months of 1941 over the same period in 1940, F.B.I. officials report. A breakdown of these figures into age groups reveals that 19-year-olds are the leading offenders, accounting for 12,409 arrests out of the total 313,204 arrests made in large cities.

The food situation in Europe will be much more serious this winter than last because Germany attacked Russia before the grain harvests of the Ukraine could be gathered. In peace time a large percentage of Ukrainian wheat goes to Germany.

In an attempt to solve gasoline shortage problems, Australia has arranged the production of 45,000,000 gallons of substitute fuels. The new fuels are made from shale oil, wheat, sugar and molasses and petroleum by-products.

One of the most popular photographs sent out by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau this year was that of Thunderbird Park, corner of Douglas and Belleville. This picture has not only been reproduced in newspapers and magazines, but used in a number of cases on magazine covers. The picture of the Inner Harbor is still the most popular photograph of Victoria, the bureau reports.

The British Minister of Agriculture announced a plan to drain some marshes in Wales which would improve a considerable area of land in the vicinity of Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgerychwrndrobwllanysyllgogoch. This is a place commonly known as Llanfair.

The RCA Victor people are ready now with a radically new record-changing mechanism which they call "the magic brain." The instrument actually will play both sides of a record without turning it over. It also does away with the need for changing needles. It'll be available in New York around mid August.

The visionary Norman Bel Geddes has been assigned by the Ringling circus to design a streamlined circus train with two sets of wheels—one for the railroad and another set on pneumatic tires which will permit travel on highways. It would eliminate all that trucking between the railroad and the circus lot. It's due next season.

A.R.P. Activities

District 2A, Fairfield: All wardens will attend at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium Thursday at 8 to see the latest films on A.R.P. work to be shown by the provincial police. Badges must be worn. Patrol leaders will meet at 7.30 on Friday, prior to the usual weekly lecture. Wardens are asked to register at once for an anti-gas course starting November 21. Those who have not obtained the first aid certificate should also register for this course. With the situation on the Pacific becoming worse, wardens must attend all meetings. Last Friday Sergt. Bishop gave the second of his lectures on police work and it is hoped he will give the third in the near future. On Friday there will be a lecture on "Blast and Splinterproof Shelters." The average attendance has been 65, out of 180 whose names are recorded as willing to serve as wardens.

Although in ancient times there were cities of 1,000,000 people, like Rome, Alexandria and Byzantium, and giant cities like Paris and Tokyo in feudal times, an economist says that there was never a time before now when the great majority of nations consisted in town-dwellers.

RELIEF ROLLS AT NEW LOW

Unemployment relief rolls in British Columbia dropped to a new low in September, with a total of 15,877 persons, including both employables and unemployables, with dependents, drawing allowances.

This was a reduction of 1,300 from August and 12,000 from September last year.

In the employable category were 1,794 family heads and 1,742 single persons, with 3,710 dependents. The unemployable group numbered 8,631 persons, including 3,046 dependents.

Clinical thermometers were new and rare in Civil War days, and were so big (about 10 inches long) that they were handled "as one might carry a gun."

DOMINANT RACE

I know of one, and only one, "race" who claimed a monopoly of kingdom and aspired to world dominion. They had been "in course of training" for only 1,500 years, but the Master ended their novitiate abruptly in these words: "The Kingdom of God shall be taken away from you and given to a nation bringing forth (please note the present continuous tense) the fruits thereof" (Mt. 21:43). If you would know of whom He spoke, read verse 45.

Mr. Springett has classified Madame Coley's "leaders of thought," whom she holds responsible, as "false shepherds, disseminators of poisonous, false, subversive and evil doctrines, whom public opinion will sweep away from our pulpits and seats of learning." The "leaders of action" are to be purged from our legislatures and the godless League of Nations. But her "human monsters," from whom we must "turn away"—I will not hazard what little is left of my life by making a guess as to their identity.

FRED T. TAPSCOTT.

HOMES AND EMPTY PLACES

After reading of the meeting between the aldermen and the mayor about the housing problem, it seems to me there are many empty places both on Government Street and below, also the corner place on Blanshard and Pandora that could be utilized.

The Sunshine Inn is really needed just for what it stands—a big help to those who cannot provide for themselves as they should. They are all men over the age to be able to work and they could not get so good a meal in any restaurant even if able to pay for it, this for the simple reason that at Sunshine they can have as much as they can eat, even to two and three helpings. If only given and stay to them. Why could not the big building of the exhibition be converted into dormitories? That was done in Vancouver in 1916. Surely there would be room for all there, and provision could be made for breakfasts by installing suitable people to look after things.

Whatever happens, I earnestly hope the Sunshine Inn will be

The device by which our red pigment distributes oxygen to the organs of the body is a fatal danger to us, for haemoglobin has a predilection for the deadly gas carbon monoxide which every hearth and car exhales. Reason would never have resorted to so clumsy a device. And if the choice was this or

R.C.A.F. to Enlist

Grade 10 Graduates

Men with only two years of high school education will be recruited into the R.C.A.F. under a new plan announced Monday by recruiting centre, Vancouver. After a special course which will bring to junior matriculation standing essential subjects, applicants will be enlisted in the R.C.A.F. to train as pilots and observers.

An applicant must be within four months of his 18th birthday on entering the course or must not have reached his 33rd birthday at the end of the course. Each applicant must produce clear proof that he has completed two years' high school in British Columbia.

Rates of pay for applicants while attending school will be $7 a week for a single man living at home, $9 a week for a single man, $12 for a married man. Transportation will be provided from the applicant's home to the city where the training school is located.

Another plan which will give specialized training in technical trades to men between 18 and 30 has been adopted by the R.C.A.F. Selected students who are suitable for subsequent enlistment will receive subsistence allowance during an 18-week civilian course of free training as aero engine mechanics, airframe mechanics and wireless operators for ground duties.

Aero engine and airframe students will be given first a 10-week basic training in sheet metal work, riveting and machine shop practice. Those selected for aero engine mechanics then receive a further two months' training in the theory of combustion engines and the servicing and repair of all types of radial and "in line" aircraft motors.

Airframe students spend the same period of advanced training in theory of flight, rigging and construction of aircraft, stresses, alloys, forging and advanced sheet metal work.

Wireless students spend 18 weeks training in wireless theory, receiving and sending set maintenance and international code. The courses are offered with out charge through an arrangement with the Dominion and provincial governments and the R.C.A.F. A cash allowance is made to students during the training period.

Graduating students upon completing the preliminary course are enlisted immediately in the R.C.A.F. in the specialized trades for which they have qualified. Over 700 men have already enlisted in British Columbia.

Application may be made through any mobile recruiting unit or through the R.C.A.F. recruiting centre at Vancouver.

Entertain Troops

Britannia Fragments, concert party of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, entertained Friday troops stationed at Fort Macaulay. Led by Alf Adams, the party gave a varied two-hour show.

One of the hits of the evening was a piano solo by George Todd, who was playing his 95th show for the troops since the beginning of the war. Eva Milne was also brought back by the boys for further encores of tap-dancing.

Others taking part in the program were: J. Holyoak, B. Lashmar, J. Matheson, Miss Dorothy Finn, Miss Grace Adams, Miss Muriel Jarvis, D. R. Park, "Squirt" Shrimpton and Percy Shrimpton. W. Pynn was technician.

At the conclusion of the show the troupe was entertained in the sergeants' mess.

The British radio provides periods of "music while you work," to aid morale and relieve fatigue, and scientific studies are in progress to fit the best types of music to this use.

The Alberta Association will hold an organization meeting, with supper and entertainment followed by a dance at the A.O.F. Hall, Friday at 8.

By PETE SALLAWAY

ORGANIZATION of the new Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey Association has apparently thrown a scare into the clubs of the West Kootenay League, Kimberley and Trail. It looks as if the interior circuit is worried over its future should the new coast circuit prove as popular as forecast. The interior clubs, no doubt, figure the coast squads will be able to grab off the cream of amateur players, which eventually would lower the calibre of hockey in the Kootenay League.

Coast clubs, who have been fortunate enough to land any of the players from the disbanded Nelson club of the Kootenay League, are finding it just a little difficult to retain them. Trail, especially, is making desperate efforts to lure the players to the interior with offers of handsome jobs. The long distance telephone and telegraph wires have been humming the last couple of days with offers to this and that player. The boys, to be eligible for playoffs must be resident in the towns they are going to represent by November 1.

In our opinion the Kootenay League clubs have a worry. If the coast circuit meets the success its backers expect, it means a boom for amateur hockey on the coast. And cities like Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Nanaimo will be in a much better position to control the player market than the interior towns. With larger populations to draw from and bigger gate receipts it is easy to read the writing on the wall.

Received a letter today from our old friend Abe Saperstein, owner and coach of the famous Harlem Globe Trotters basketball team. The annual appearance of the great negro club is always the highlight of the local cage season. Abe informs us his boys will assemble in Chicago, November 3, for the 15th season of touring. The players will head immediately for Sheboygan, Wis., where a training camp will be pitched for 16 days, with scrimmage opposition being furnished by the Sheboygan Redskins of the National Professional Basketball League.

Saperstein tells us he will take a squad of crack veterans, newcomers highly recommended by college coaches, and outstanding prospects of the Globe Trotters' farm clubs to camp. These players come from every nook and corner of the United States.

This season's schedule will be the most pretentious ever undertaken by the great club, as the demand for its services will take it back and forth to the leading arenas in all sections of the United States, Canada and Mexico. Credited with being the most entertaining basketball team in the game, besides having set so many styles of play for many years, the Trotters will introduce a number of new stunts this season. The Trotters' record to date is 2,022 games won and 142 lost in 14 seasons, besides capturing the official 1940-41 world pro championship.

Whirly On Coast

Hundreds Greet Horse

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Whirlyaway, heading an invading contingent of 46 thoroughbreds of the Calumet Stable, arrived here Tuesday to be greeted by an unprecedented throng of hundreds.

With Whirly was Some Chance, the stable's champion two-year-old, and many other fine race horses, but the Blenheim colt was the main attraction.

The triple crown winner of 1941 seeks to wrest record money-winning laurels from California's beloved Seabiscuit, and bids fair to do it in the coming winter campaign at Santa Anita.

Whirly leads the Seabiscuit record of $437,730 by $88,069. He's eligible for stakes totaling $205,000 before the Santa Anita season is over. The golden goal, of course, is the golden gallop March 7—the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap.

California always will love old Seabiscuit, who reached his peak in a gallant comeback at the age of seven, but Whirly, capricious winner of the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont, holds the fancy of the turf world today.

Warren Wright's colt is eligible for six stakes this winter—one worth $50,000 in added money—three $10,000 races, one $25,000 and the $100,000 handicap. Some Chance, incidentally, is eligible for $295,000 added stake money, including the $50,000 Derby.

Dutton Produces Again

Amerks Develop Kids

WINNIPEG (CP)—Amazing New York Americans' National Hockey League club has been no bed of roses for Mervyn (Red) Dutton, but each year the Calgary fireball takes the bad breaks in stride and comes up fighting.

A year ago old age caught up with half of Dutton's team and the retirement epidemic forced him to rebuild drastically. Dutton promptly came up with five promising youngsters, goalie Charlie Rayner, defenceman Pete Slobodian and forwards Bill Benson, Bus Wycheley and Norm Larson.

The club finished sixth in the standing but Red counted on that year's experience to ripen the youngsters and make Americans a contender. This fall the Manitoba and Saskatchewan War Services Boards refused passport authority to all hockey players and Dutton lost all five of last year's rookies and, in addition, had to pass up services of Garth Bush, Regina amateur, on whom he had counted as a defence stop-gap.

And, as if fate had not been sufficiently unkind, defenceman Charlie Conacher retired, Americans' veteran utility man, Hooley Smith, failed to report at training camp at Port Arthur and Dutton could not come to terms with the ageing but still effective leftwinger, Harvey Jackson.

LIKE MAGICIAN

Dutton was definitely annoyed but far from beaten. He came up immediately with an 18-year-old "kid line," cashed in on an agreement with Springfield Indians of the American League, from whom he obtained four players, and signed Mel Hill, formerly of Boston Bruins.

"I think deals I have in view for Americans will put them in the playoffs," Dutton predicted as the club left here for Detroit, where they open the N.H.L. campaign, November 2, against Red Wings.

Dutton brought up centres Pete Kelly and Fred Thurrier from Springfield Indians and also took two amateur rookies training at the Springfield Port Arthur camp.

The amateurs, Jimmy Peters, right winger, and Ken Mosdell, a pivot, both starred last season with Montreal Royals, eastern Canada junior champions. These two, with Harry Watson, left wing ace from Saskatchewan junior Quakers, form Americans' "kid line," scheduled to see action in the N.H.L. next week.

Dutton revealed that he has signed 11 players, including the kid line, and has three player deals on fire. Other changes planned for the Americans, who defeated their intercity rivals, Rangers, 2 to 1, and battled to a 1 to 1 draw in two exhibition games at Winnipeg were not disclosed.

THURRIER IS SPARK

Thurrier, 24-year-old youth from Granby, Que., who bagged 67 points in 61 American League games last season, sparked Americans' attack in the exhibitions, scoring both goals of the first game and starting the play for the one slammed home by Benson in the second encounter.

Exterminator To Lead Field

BALTIMORE (AP)—Looking fit, despite his 26 years, Exterminator came back Tuesday to Pimlico, where he will be honored Thursday at the opening of the Maryland Jockey Club's fall race meeting.

"Old Bones" was brought by van from Mrs. Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Count Manor, Va., farm. In another van came his inseparable companion, the little Shetland pony, Peanuts.

It was the first time Exterminator had been at a race track since he was retired in 1924, after eight years of campaigning, in which he earned $252,996.

On Thursday, "Old Bones" will lead the field to the post for the Exterminator Handicap, which will precede the Pimlico Special.

A plan to have Willie Knapp, Exterminator's jockey in his victorious 1918 Kentucky Derby, ride him in the post parade has been abandoned. Exterminator will be led without a rider because the old veteran might become excited with a man astride him again.

Set for Ice Opener

DETROIT (CP)—The Detroit Red Wings returned Tuesday to their two-day workout schedule in preparation for their National Hockey League opener Saturday against the Canadiens at Montreal.

The Wings, victorious in six exhibition games, appeared to be in exceptional spirits for the season's start. Their only two casualties, Wilbur (Dutch) Hiller and Joe Fisher, returned to work Tuesday. Hiller, left winger recently acquired from New York Rangers, was out with a hip injury.

Dutton brought up centres Pete Kelly and Fred Thurrier from Springfield Indians and also took two amateur rookies training at the Springfield Port Arthur camp.

Pastor Knocks Out Delaney

TORONTO (CP)—Pounding away methodically and without any opposition, Bob Pastor of New York, fourth-ranking contender for Joe Louis' heavy-weight boxing title, scored a technical knockout over Al Delaney of Windsor, Ont., Canadian champion, in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round fight here Tuesday night. Delaney weighed 197½ and Pastor 182½.

Delaney went down for the fifth time at 1:26 of the sixth round, and Referee Sammy Luftspring didn't bother to count.

Sonny Jones and Katsumi Morioka, Vancouver fighters, won their bouts in preliminary contests.

Jones made short work of Lou Severo, knocking out the Syracuse batter in one minute and 55 seconds of the second round. Both weighed 147½ pounds. Morioka gained a six-round decision over Tommy Mack of Syracuse. Morioka weighed 121 and Mack one pound less.

Loop Features Former Greats

NEW YORK (CP)—An expanded American Hockey League opens a new season tonight with one of the most colorful coaching staffs in the game expected to enhance the circuit's already strong drawing power.

Two former hockey greats are new to the league this season—Ching Johnson of New York Rangers fame and Cooney, Welland, and mainstay of Boston Bruins attacks for years. They join such stars as Eddie Shore, Springfield coach; the Cook brothers, Bill and Bun; Tiny Thompson and Larry Aurie.

Johnson will pilot Washington Ultras, new addition to the A.H.L. this year, while Welland takes over Hershey Bears.

Another new coach this season is Danny Cox, who comes from Seattle. Cox takes over Philadelphia Rockets, successors to last year's Ramblers.

With such former stars in charge of the coaching duties and making as many appearances in action as their aging frames will allow, league directors hope to whet crowd appeal. Last year the A.H.L. catered to more than 1,500,000 fans and drew some $1,000,000 at the gate.

Gala Attracts Star Swimmers

Victoria Y.M.C.A. Swimming Club stars are going to see a full evening's stiff competition Saturday night when the fifth intercity swim gala of the season will bring together four swim clubs to try for the aquatic honors of the province. From the mainland are coming 31 swimmers from the Vancouver and Crescent Clubs. Providing the opposition will be the local "Y" team, assisted by the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club.

It will be one of the strongest swim groups to ever come to the city, Ken Muir, secretary of the Vancouver club, announces, with many well-known artists included in the invading team. Joan Langdon, Canadian breaststroke champion, and Betty Baggeley, smooth backstroke artist, will be with the Vancouverites.

Also with the invaders will be the Aetzel trio of Audrey, Toots and Georgina, who displayed their talent at the last intercity fixture several months ago. It was at that affair that the local "brine slayers" doubled the point total of the visitors.

The program is scheduled to get under way at 8, and it is expected that many will turn out to see the teams compete for the British Columbia honors. A diving exhibition by Ted Rau of the Victoria "Y," Alex Matheson and Terry Conolly, both of Vancouver, will be presented.

Coach Archie McKinnon of the Y.M.C.A. still holds confidence in the results of his proteges, and in spite of the added strength of the challengers, predicts another win for the capital city's contenders.

Score Goals At Will in 35-6 Victory

The Bays are all set to sew B.C. championship crests on the upper left side of their colorful new red, white and blue jackets. Last night, within the chilly confines of the Victoria Sports Centre, the Victoria boys went through a bumpy, but farcical practice, laying low Salmon Arm in a 35 to 6 dirge. This game was the first of a two-out-of-three series for the intermediate lacrosse championship of the province.

It wasn't a game, it was a massacre. The interior team was not in the same class. However, their boys fought hard during the whole show and were still bouncing off the big Bay defence in an effort to get goals as the final whistle sounded.

In the first 11 minutes the Bay squad put half a dozen bulges in the Salmon Arm netting without a return and then commenced to fool around. Ken Parks finally scored for the interior team near the end of the period when he charged the Bay defence, fought his way through and placed the ball between Art McKim's feet.

INDIVIDUAL PLAY

All goal-getting attempts by the losers were individual ones and although some of the boys handled their sticks well they just couldn't force their way on goal. Most of the evening their checking was lax, this being aided by lucid Bay passing that continually had them out of position with an open highway leading to their goal. Dave Gibbons, visiting goalie, was almost vulcanized by the Bay shooting. He stopped 31 shots, however, outguessing the local boys in many of their earnest attempts. This was 15 more than Art McKim blocked.

The first period started with Bob Wallace knocking home three straight goals. Then everyone joined the parade and the period ended, Bays 9, Salmon Arm 1. The next canto the Bays scored 8, their opponents another singleton. For a good half of that period the Bay team just played around, passing the ball and generally having a good time. Score at the halfway mark was 17 to 2.

There was a marked decrease in population when the teams came on the floor for the second half. It seems a couple of hundred people went downtown to have coffee.

The next period was Salmon Arm's best. The boys from the shores of the Shuswap scored thrice, as the Bays retaliated with five. The only action in this period, as in the rest of the game, was provided by liberal slashing and boarding, the only events in which Salmon Arm had a look-in. They held their own. Interior goals were scored by Doug Norman, Ken Parks and Bobby Purkes, two long shots and one breakaway.

In the final canto the Bays frolicked with zest. They ran around like gamboing lambs in springtime, shooting the ball goalwards about once a minute to score 13 goals. Thirty seconds from time Stew McAllister slapped one in for the losers.

Bobby Wallace was the leader of the band for the night, sliding 7 into the Salmon Arm nets.

Expect Reiser To Take Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Pete Reiser is favorite to get the Chicago baseball writers' most valuable rookie award. . . . Freddie Apostoli, who was making a nice comeback, will be on the shelf three months with a busted mitt. . . . Jimmy Orlando, hockey's bad man last season, is sporting a handsome moustache this fall, and manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings offered him $50 to keep it long enough for the gal spectators to get a look.

Phil Rizzuto: "Being built close to the ground has advantages for a shortstop and it makes it tough on some pitchers to get the ball down to my height and over the plate. There's no kidding that I can't silence with a base hit."

One-minute sports page—Next year's P.G.A. tournament likely will go to Detroit's Grosse Ile club. The motor executive who put up the dough for the Ryder Cup exhibition is willing to back it for $20,000. . . . With Billy Soose retiring as middleweight champ, Mike Jacobs is trying to sign Al Hostak to take Billy's place against Ken Overlin.

Application blanks for membership in the National Association of Semi-Pro Umpires include a question about the ump's vision. One guy from Kansas wrote: "One doctor says O.K., but 10,000 fans say I'm blind."

Evidence of the popularity of the newly-organized junior ice hockey club was the turn out of 60 youngsters for the workout last night in the basement of the Strathcona Hotel.

Coach Will Cook put the lads through another strenuous session of gymnastics, and has called another training session for Friday night at 7 at the same place.

Norman Baker and Arnie Ferguson followed with 6 apiece. Cullin had 4, Carl Ovcharick 3, Coates, Ralph Baker, Andy Ovcharick and Anderson 2 each, and Art Chapman bringing up in the rear with one marker.

Kent Parks and Bobby Purkes got 2 apiece for Salmon Arm, Doug Norman and Stew McAllister garnering single points. Brynjolfsson and Brown were refereed.

Next game will be played at the Sports Centre, Thursday, at 8.30.

6th Traffic Death

Killed on Way From School

Riding home from school on his new bicycle Tuesday afternoon, nine-year-old Gordon Leonard Flaherty, 3268 Alder Street, Saanich, was in collision with a car at Cloverdale Avenue and Alder Street and shortly after died of injuries he received.

It was the sixth traffic fatality of the year in Saanich and brought a tragic climax to a large number of bicycle and car accidents in Greater Victoria in the last few weeks.

An inquest will be held Friday morning at 10 in Sands Mortuary Ltd., where the body was taken.

The accident occurred at about 3.15 as the curly-headed youngster was going home from Cloverdale School. Police said the driver of the car was Mrs. Margaret Goodie, 3116 Washington Avenue, who was traveling east on Cloverdale Avenue.

Police were given conflicting versions of the collision. One witness claimed Gordon was riding in front of the car going in the same direction and another said the youngster was riding in the opposite direction to the car. Gordon lived with his uncle, E. Thorntonsen. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond James Flaherty live at the 100-Mile House in the Cariboo. The boy had been sent to Victoria to attend school.

The parents were notified of their son's death and made arrangements immediately to come here for the inquest.

Constable Victor Smith of the Saanich police rushed the boy to Jubilee Hospital in a police ambulance shortly after the accident but on arrival at the hospital, the boy was pronounced dead by Dr. B. L. Newton. Death was believed caused by a fracture of the skull. Sergeant Eric Elwell and Constable Cecil Pearce were sent to the scene to investigate.

The boy was born in Mission City and besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Raymond and Dennis, who are with their parents in the Cariboo; four uncles and one aunt.

Lieut. Frank C. Hall, Seaford Highlanders, accompanied by his wife, arrived recently from Calgary to spend his leave with his parents, Magistrate Henry C. Hall and Mrs. Hall, Craigdarroch.

TOWN TOPICS

Ward 5 Cordova Bay District Ratepayers' Association will meet at Cordova Bay store, Friday at 8.

Members of St. John Ambulance nursing division are invited to attend A.R.P. moving pictures at the Chamber of Commerce, Thursday at 8.

The Overseas League will meet at the Empress Hotel Monday at 2.30 when Major L. Bullock-Webster will speak on "The Pearl of Merit in the Dramatic Oyster."

An 18-foot launch, Gadabout, owned by Joseph R. Short, 1405 Douglas Street, was stolen from a mooring below 2116 Government Street, it was reported to city police Tuesday.

All equipment of the City Fire Department responded to a call today to Government Street, between Fort and Broughton Streets, which turned out to be only a small fire in a parked car. A chimney fire at 135 South Turner Street at 9.25 Tuesday night was extinguished.

Consideration of the extension of Bay Street through the Richmond Road grounds adjacent to the isolation hospital unit is recommended by L. A. Gale in a letter received at the City Hall today. The communication notes the matter might be taken up while the isolation unit disposition is considered.

Vic Griffin, 633 Lampson Street, returned to Victoria this morning with a 1941 car he won at a contest sponsored by the New Westminster Kiwanis Club. Mr. Griffin bought the lucky ticket at Courtenay some time ago and was presented with the car Tuesday. An annual affair, the proceeds of the contest go to provide playgrounds for New Westminster children.

During the winter months the Provincial Museum will remain open on Sundays from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., in addition to the usual hours on week-days. In the past it has been the custom to close the museum on Sundays from November to April, but in order to accommodate those who are unable to visit the museum on week-days the summer schedule is being continued. This arrangement is particularly planned to appeal to men in uniform who have time off on Sundays when most other public buildings are closed.

GAS STATIONS RUNNING DRY

"No gas" signs began to appear in numbers this morning as the October gasoline quotas ran out and distributors here had no word that Ottawa would release deliveries at the last minute as last month.

One big distributing firm estimated that at least 20 of its stations would be dry before nightfall. By Friday there will not be much gas available.

Meanwhile distributors were working out what the November gasoline quotas will mean. They are based on an involved formula designed to allow for a normal increase in the number of cars from last year, which is then subject to a fixed reduction in gasoline.

Some stations will be reduced as much as 15 per cent from their October quotas. Others will not fare so badly. It depends on their business over a period of time.

Motorman Says Lights With Him

Thomas Leahy, 58, widower, father of eight children, took the stand in his own defence against the manslaughter charge arising from the death of George Hickman, September 24, on Government Street, in Assize Court here today.

He related his record of 31 years' service with the B.C. Electric Railway Company as a street car operator, testifying he had had no serious accident until that in which Mr. Hickman, a pedestrian, was killed.

Defence evidence was completed in less than an hour and court adjourned for luncheon prior to addresses by W. H. M. Haldane, who with Ralph B. Mathews, is appearing for the defence, and by J. B. Clearihue, K.C., crown prosecutor.

Mr. Leahy stated he had had a few minor brushes with automobiles while driving street cars and once, while driving a motor car, had bumped into a milk truck that stopped suddenly. His vision was good, he said, and the car he was operating at the time of the accident was in satisfactory repair.

Approaching Johnson, going south, I had the green lights," he said. "I rang my bell twice and proceeded across. Just as I got maybe two or three yards over the southerly yellow line on the north side, the light changed to red. I couldn't very well stop then. I would have blocked traffic, so I proceeded."

Automobiles were waiting to cross Government and a street car was approaching, he said, adding he saw no traffic coming from other directions.

"As I looked back from Johnson Street a man was right in front of the car, between the rails," Mr. Leahy said. "He'd be six or seven feet in front of me. I was going between 10 and 12 miles an hour. I applied the emergency brake and rang the bell at the same time. The man was too close and was hit," he said.

Accused testified he had not seen the pedestrian until he was in front of the car.

In reply to cross-examination by Mr. Clearihue, Mr. Leahy stated his instructions as a motorman were to observe traffic signals and to give the right-of-way to pedestrians at all times.

Miss Eva M. Waymark returned to the stand this morning for cross-examination on the traffic signals. She contended the lights were red when the street car entered the intersection.

Her evidence was contradictory to that given later by Harry McKinley, who said they were green when the car started across Johnson.

Kenneth Reid, assistant city electrician, explained the working of the lights, indicating a car traveling 12 miles an hour would clear the intersection within the safety period when all lights were red.

The jury includes: Thomas C. Rogers (foreman), Albert E. Lea, William S. Summers, Sidney J. Chiverall, Brian F. Green, Bruce F. Irvine, George F. Sales, Lewis G. Lee, James Walker, Harold J. John, Charles J. Gregson and William C. Scott.

Man Near Death

Mike Hutrack, a railway worker, is in hospital today in McBride, B.C., in critical condition following an argument and fight with another railway worker, Howard Kuryluk, on Sunday, B.C. police reported.

The two men were said to have come to blows in an argument and Hutrack was kicked in the abdomen. An emergency operation was ordered in an effort to save his life.

Nearing Completion

R. G. Barclay, chief insurance officer, Unemployment Insurance Commission, Ottawa, visited the city in the course of a survey trip across Canada, announces registration under the act in this province is almost complete.

A total of 18,531 stamp books has been issued by the commission to 1,413 employers in Victoria for distribution to their employees and of the books allotted 15,000 have been issued.

The offices of the Unemployment Insurance Commission and Employment Service of Canada, as previously announced, have been amalgamated and the local office space at the Broughton-Langley Street headquarters doubled. A staff of five is registering employers and distributing stamp books.

Street Car Damaged

The street car was traveling north on Government Street, in charge of Ralph Harvey, and the truck east on Johnson, driven by W. L. Dougan, 1356 McNair Street. The truck was shoved into a parked car owned by Norman Hurst, 1727 Cook Street, which was damaged slightly.

More Tourists To Visit Victoria

George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, told directors Tuesday, Victoria will have an even bigger tourist business next year, "if we can handle it." Mr. Warren has just returned from a 2,600-mile trip through Washington, Oregon and California, where he attended six major tourist and travel association conferences. In 13 addresses, Mr. Warren told of Canada's war effort and United States-Canadian relationships.

He reports the main topic of conversation and activity in the United States today is national defence. The need of proper holiday relaxation for defence workers amid natural surroundings is being stressed, he said.

This, he said, would probably have a favorable effect on British Columbia tourist business.

"Considerable difficulty will no doubt be experienced by transportation companies in bringing automobiles to the island," he said. "Hotels and housing accommodation, no doubt, will be taxed, providing there is no unforeseen development of the war."

Motions congratulating Mr. Warren on his successful trip were proposed by Harold Husband, on behalf of the Publicity Bureau, and by E. Rowebottom, on behalf of the provincial government.

In a letter from D. K. Kennedy, city building inspector, it was announced the next Pacific coast building officials' conference, an outstanding annual meeting of building leaders throughout the country, will be held September 8 to 11, 1942.

Citizens entitled to the civic franchise, but whose names are not placed on the voters' list automatically, were advised today to register at the City Clerk's office before 5 Friday. The elections will be held in December.

Nova Scotia Returns Liberal Government

HALIFAX (CP)—Assured of office for another five years, Nova Scotia's Liberal government emerged today from the province's wartime general election with its command of the Legislature unshaken, and its forces but slightly depleted from the ponderous group it led to victory four years ago.

In winning 23 of the 30 House seats in Tuesday's balloting, Premier A. S. MacMillan's administration fell off by two from the Liberal total of 1937, but held to the House majority it enjoyed at dissolution. At the same time, it achieved the personal defeat of L. W. Fraser, the 39-year-old lawyer who sought the premiership at the head of the Conservatives.

The Opposition, on the basis of unofficial but nearly complete civilian returns, and partial results from the light soldier vote, will consist of four Conservatives and three C.C.F. members. The Conservatives lost two seats—including Mr. Fraser's—and gained one, and the C.C.F. gained two.

C.C.F. UPSET

Contesting a Nova Scotia general election for the first time, the C.C.F. sprang a major upset in industrial Cape Breton. East by toppling Hon. L. D. Currie, Minister of Mines and Labor, who had represented the riding since 1933. D. N. Brodie, a businessman making his debut to provincial politics, rolled up a plurality of 2,173 for the second highest in the province, on the basis of incomplete returns.

The remainder of the cabinet came through without trouble. Premier MacMillan, a member of the Legislature for 15 years, coasted home comfortably again in Hants.

The 69-year-old Premier will meet the new Legislature of one more member than his party had at dissolution. The standing there was: Liberals, 22; Conservatives, 5; and C.C.F., 1, with two vacant. However, his majority over the combined Opposition remains unchanged.

The surprise of the election was the showing made by the small C.C.F. group in electing three of their six candidates. All three were returned in the highly industrialized steel and coal areas of Cape Breton.

SERVICE VOTE

Incomplete returns from the servicemen's vote favor Liberal candidates, but not to the extent the civilian vote did in Tuesday's balloting.

Men in uniform voting in 20 of the 31 polls which have reported indicated preference for 17 Liberals, 9 Conservatives and 3 Co-operative Commonwealth Federation men. There was one tie.

Of the 3,755 men in uniform eligible to vote, returns were in from 1,291. They were divided this way: Liberal 645, Conservative 525, C.C.F. 121.

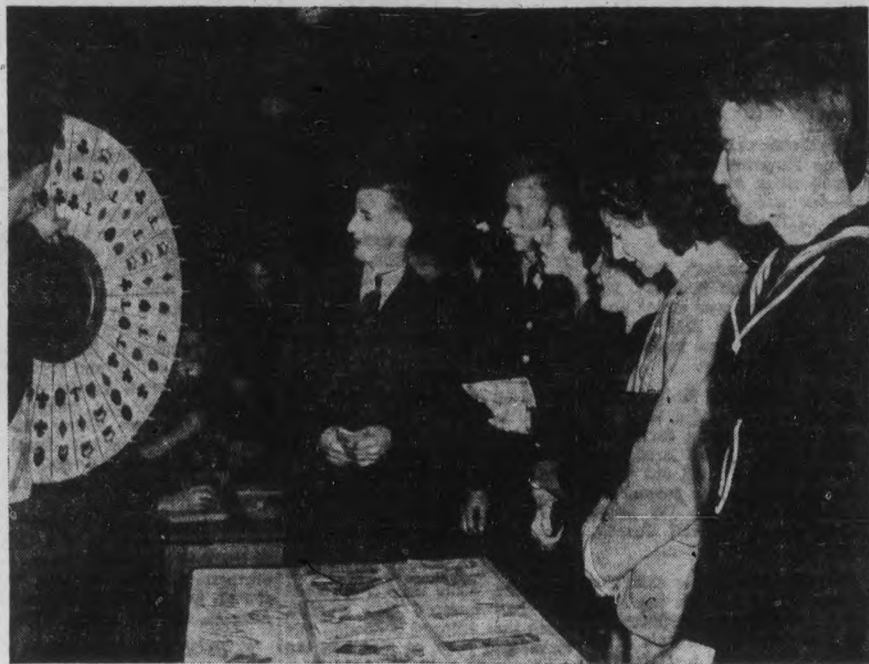

The servicemen—only those in the province election day could vote—cast their ballots in the district where they were stationed. They voted, however, for candidates in their home ridings.

C.C.F. VIEW

WINNIPEG (CP)—The election of three C.C.F. candidates in the Nova Scotia election, coupled with 14 elected in British Columbia last week, was termed "significant" by David Lewis of Ottawa, national secretary of the C.C.F.

In a statement Mr. Lewis said: "All this points to one conclusion—the workers of Canada are deeply dissatisfied with the labor policies pursued both at Ottawa and in the provinces. . . . The Canadian people are looking for new policies in our war effort, policies which would eliminate war profits and strengthen democracy at home by making labor a partner in the conduct of the war."

Hudson's Bay Employees Frolic

Gamblers watch their fortunes as they play Crown and Anchor.

Prehistoric Indians of Ecuador made many delicate gold ornaments, and even fishhooks of gold.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Nicholls, impersonate Brenda and Cobina, winning first prize.

In all types and patterns of rags and finery, 400 employees of the Hudson's Bay Company attended a carnival and dance that netted several hundred dollars to aid the store's auxiliary Service Fund, at the Shrine Hall, Tuesday night.

It was a night of gambling, gambling and dancing, with hardly a conventional costume in sight. The gambling hall was rife with bingo, ring and leg, where contestants had to throw rings over the shapely limbs of fair maidens; hobby-horse racing; Hit Hitler with darts, and roulette wheels, where hundreds gambled away their dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Nicholls, dressed as Brenda and Cobina of radio and movie fame, took first prize in the comic costume section. Dorothy Harper and Gordon Craig won prizes for the most original dress, and Dick Clarke took premier honors for the best hard-time costume, along with Miss Lena Schemago.

The entertainment committee was as follows: C. Walton, G. Benson, J. Chambers, L. J. D. Smith, Ken Cave, Bert Davidson, Misses Babs Hoggarth, Olive Ashton and Helen Humber.

A. J. Watson, store manager, and Mrs. Watson attended.

New Windshield Wipers

EDMONTON (CP)—For the first time in the 33-year history of the Edmonton street railway, automatic windshield wipers are being installed on the cars, it was announced today. Manually-operated windshield wipers have been tried from time to time on the cars, but were not very effective.

Air Force Plans For Future Needs

F.O. J. C. Hackney, recruiting officer for the R.C.A.F., said Tuesday the opening of enlistment to young men with only two years' high school education is already resulting in an increase in applications.

The lowering of the educational standard necessary for enlistment will enable many suitable men to enter the air force who were formerly barred, F.O. Hackney said. The recruiting officer explained that the change was made not because of any scarcity of available men now, but rather to guarantee future requirements will be filled.

Applications for enlistment in the R.C.A.F. are being received at the Western Air Command headquarters in the Belmont Building. A recruiting officer is there Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week.

Bourassa

Canada Lacks National Spirit

MONTREAL (CP)—Belief that "the Catholic mentality" has a leading role to play both in the future of Canada as a nation and in the post-war reorganization of Europe was expressed in an address here Tuesday night by Henri Bourassa, veteran French-Canadian Nationalist, politician and journalist.

Making one of his few utterances since 1935, when he last sat in the House of Commons as an independent member for Labelle, Mr. Bourassa said:

"We must persuade Canada that if we (French-Canadians) are worth something, it is because of our Catholic mentality. Don't let English-speaking and Protestant Canadians believe that there is a principle of servility in Catholicism, but rather a principle of force and unity."

He said the "collaboration of all good-willed people in the country who were willing to make sacrifices of sentiment and opinion" was necessary for the attainment of "a true Canadian nationalism."

"The Canadian people hasn't yet found a national spirit. We are not Canadians. We are Montreals, Torontonians, etcetera, etcetera. When will Canadians begin to feel a sense of national responsibility?"

He attributed the present war largely to the "injustices of Versailles," and said it might never have occurred "if the so-called Christian nations of the world had not disdained to listen to the appeal of Pope Benedict XV for a peace based on justice. The present war didn't just spring from Hitler's head. Hitler is a direct result of French and British diplomacy. Hitler is the biggest danger to the world today, and he was made out of the bitterness of Versailles. He became the only man who could end the post-war chaos that Versailles imposed on Germany."

Pigott Checks Housing Scheme

Appreciation of co-operation given by the Esquimalt Municipal Council in clearing the way for the Colville Road housing site for shipyard workers was expressed by J. M. Pigott, president of Wartime Housing Ltd., visiting the city in connection with the construction program.

Wartime Housing Ltd. will erect 75 homes on the Colville Road site. Tenders for the Esquimalt work close today and construction will be started immediately the contract has been awarded.

Major H. Cuthbert Holmes and E. W. McMullen are members of a committee which will act as a board of directors and appoint an administrator to handle the housing project.

Much thought has been given to the design and color schemes of the houses, said Mr. Pigott. Rental charges, which have yet to be fixed, must take into consideration the capital invested and the needs of the market for the housing scheme serves. Asserting there was a housing shortage throughout the country, Mr. Pigott said: "People are more prosperous. Families are spread out. The marriage rate is up. Apart altogether from the war, we run into a special housing shortage. This is a social rather than a war problem. Some municipalities have asked for social housing projects whether or not they had war contracts."

Mr. Pigott said his corporation was building 500 houses for workers in Windsor, Ont., and 1,000 in Halifax, N.S.

Wherever houses had been erected elsewhere in Canada, and they have already been provided in some 30 or 40 centres, the scheme has been well received.

Mr. Pigott, in order to serve as head of Wartime Housing Ltd., has relinquished for the duration his duties as president of the Pigott Construction Company of Hamilton, Ont.

the business division at a rally in Spencer's dining-room Tuesday evening as they prepared to approach the public in the annual Chest drive today.

He cited some of the outstanding work done by the organizations financed by the chest and advised canvassers to familiarize themselves with the activities of them to make their appeals more efficient.

F. E. Winslow, president of the Community Chest, stated indications pointed to generous support of this year's campaign. He noted the federal government allowed a 5 per cent deduction from excess profit taxes for charitable donations and advised canvassers to bring that fact to the attention of business firms when seeking subscriptions.

Frank Paulding declared the Community Chest campaign a scientific, sane way of raising funds and listed results from other campaigns throughout North America to substantiate his statement.

He said expenses of the campaign were only 2.2 per cent and administration only 3.5 per cent.

PLEDGES HONORED

Emphasizing the value of pledges and delayed payments, he told the meeting 98 per cent of those signed in Victoria last year had been honored. There was every reason for the 700 workers assisting the campaign to approach their duties with confidence of success, he said.

Miss Dorothy Yates, general secretary of the Family Welfare Association, outlined the work of some of the agencies, noting the demand for extra milk for children, moves to prevent youthful delinquency were less expensive than corrective measures and the services rendered by her group, the Victorian Order of Nurses, the Children's Aid Society and other organizations had grown with wartime difficulties despite increased employment.

S. M. Armstrong, chairman of the business division, presided.

Urges Young Men Realize Their Duty

VANCOUVER (CP)—Capt. H. C. Gell, recruiting officer for Vancouver, said in a service club address Canada's overseas forces "now have all the equipment and guns we want and we are ready for business."

Capt. Gell said the Canadian Corps is the front line of defence, and will be in the front line if anything happens.

"We are certainly going into action soon, he said. Young men must realize their duty and enlist."

"The only way to keep war from Canada is to provide men for our army and keep the war over there."

Community Chest workers inspected the exhibits of some of the agencies which derive their finances from the chest at Welfare House this week as they prepared for the annual campaign which will reach its climax during the week starting Monday. ## Japs in Indo-China Prepare to Attack

HANOI, French Indo-China (AP)—The tempo of Japanese military activity recently has been accelerated throughout Indo-China and observers in many parts of the colony agreed today some major development seems to be in prospect.

However, these informed quarters were divided over the possible scene of operations. Some expressed belief an attempt would be made to drive into the south China province of Yunnan to sever the Burma Road.

They quoted reports Gen. Lung Yun, governor of Yunnan, is preparing to abandon Chiang Kai-shek and join the Japanese-controlled Nanking government.

Others said the Japanese seem to be chiefly interested in the Thailand-Indo-China border situation.

Censorship prevented detailed description of the Japanese preparations. The army now is engaged in manoeuvres in Cambodia, the western part of Indo-China, and this correspondent, traveling through that area recently, heard machine guns chattering day and night.

A highly qualified informant said that Thailand, whose frontier adjoins Cambodia, is keeping heavy contingents of troops on the border.

'LITTLE TOKYO' FEARS CONFLICT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Little Tokyo," largest Japanese colony in the United States, is watching every diplomatic move in the Far East with mingled emotions—fear, hope and loyalty to two countries.

There are 40,000 persons of Nipponese birth or extraction in the Los Angeles colony, which nestles, self-contained, in the shadow of the towering City Hall. With war tension mounting, 250 of them left Tuesday for San Francisco, hopeful of returning to their homeland aboard the Tatuta Maru next Sunday.

Bankers, students, importers and exporters, treaty merchants here under government sanctions, were among those who bade farewell to friends and relatives.

They are escaping the problems of the Nisei—the American-born Japanese. There are 26,500 who have had all the schooling and training of American boys and girls, yet are restricted by Japanese ancestry and tradition. The 250 also are escaping problems of the Issei, 12,500 strong, who are ineradicably Japanese and cannot become U.S. citizens. The Issei have watched their sons and daughters mold their thoughts and manners to the Occidental pattern.

In the Japanese colony are 1,200 Japanese nationals, their allegiance bound to the Emperor.

The Nisei dread the thought of an American-Japanese war, for Issei parents would be torn between love for their children and for their homeland.

British Bomb Town in Sicily

ROME (AP)—British air raiders swept over Sicily again Tuesday night, concentrating their attack on Comiso, the Italian high command said today.

The raiders caused little damage and no casualties, however, the daily war bulletin declared.

The Italians acknowledged that British planes also had attacked Bengazi, Libya, and said their own aircraft had bombed the British Mediterranean base of Malta. One British raider was reported shot down over Bengazi.

WET SNOW COVERS PRAIRIE PROVINCES

WINNIPEG (CP)—A blanket of wet snow covered the prairie provinces today, with snow still falling at many points.

Manitoba received its first fall Tuesday night and Winnipeggers early today were forced to make paths through four inches of fresh wet snow. At Morden, 80 miles southwest of the Manitoba capital, six inches had fallen.

Temperatures in Manitoba ranged around 30 above, but in Saskatchewan and Alberta thermometers dropped to as low as 12 above.

A 50-mile-an-hour gale swept over the Calgary district late Tuesday, bringing a light snow. A check-up by the weather office showed that from one-sixth to one inch of snow covered the foothills province, with heavier falls as the survey moved eastward.

Moose Jaw and Prince Albert in Saskatchewan each reported three inches of snow, while Saskatoon had 2½ inches.

Air Casualties

The new list follows:

BURIED IN EIRE

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry today listed E. A. Woodman, St. Catharines, Ont., as next of kin of Sgt. Douglas Albert Woodman of the R.C.A.F. fatally injured in a crash on the west coast of County Cork, Eire. He is Sgt. Woodman's father. Funeral of the airman took place Tuesday at Mallow, Eire.

Troops See London, Find Few Luxuries

By ROY THORSEN
(Former Assistant Sports Editor of the Times)

LONDON. London people look just like normal people to me, in spite of all they have been through. If they are feeling the strain from the war they certainly keep it well masked. They are not starving. They have few luxuries left, but get enough of the essentials to live on. This makes you stop and wonder how people in countries Hitler has conquered are managing to keep alive when they aren't getting any supplies through from the western hemisphere.

There was lots of beer to be had in London, but hard liquor was not so plentiful. We found pubs everywhere in London, but the beer is weak and you have to sip it to get a rise out of it.

WAXWORKS AND PIGEONS

I was with a party of four other C Company lads, Canadian Scottish. We had quite a time and saw as many of the sights as possible. We took in Madame Tussaud's famous wax museum (it's a great show in wax, and while I marvelled at the likenesses of present-day and past statesmen and famous historical figures, the likenesses of our modern movie figures I found on the horrible side.)

In Trafalgar Square I saw a lovely sight, thousands of pigeons being fed in the square by scores of soldiers and civilians.

'In Gods' Hands' Says Pattullo

WINNIPEG (CP)—Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia said in an interview here Tuesday night the future of his Liberal government is "in the hands of the gods."

He refused to comment on the possibility of a coalition government, but said:

"The King's government must go on in orderly fashion and that's what I'll try to do."

The birds are almost tame, and in spite of the war, Londoners still find time to feed their feathered pets.

We saw the swarms of ladies of easy virtue in Piccadilly Circus (funny, you know, I expected another Coney Island, and was a little disappointed). We saw famous Big Ben and the Houses of Parliament. We wandered through Windsor Park with a couple of English girls, and saw Windsor Castle. Buckingham Palace did not look so impressive from the outside. We also visited London Bridge, the Tower of London, and countless other famous landmarks read about.

SAD SUBWAY SIGHTS

A sorrowful sight are the subway tunnels with thousands of people bedded down for the night. A warden told us there were not as many sleeping in the subways now as earlier in the year. Many former subway residents left to stay with friends, others went back to patched-up homes. But thousands still remain to spend their nights there.

It makes you sad to see all these people forced to make their homes in the subways, for you not only see grown-ups, but babes-in-arms, too. They have a fine spirit, though, these English. You don't hear them complaining or grumbling about their predicament. This is part of that great spirit I read about so much in Canadian papers and now realize is so much a fact.

German Claim

BERLIN (AP)—A German spokesman today claimed 14 ships totaling 47,000 tons were sunk by German submarines in a six-day pursuit of a heavily loaded convoy traveling from Gibraltar to Britain.

They added that a British destroyer—one of the warships guarding the merchantmen—also was sent to the bottom by a torpedo.

Almost the entire convoy was destroyed, these sources claimed.

Social Workers Count On Chest

In the life stories which unfold before the Family Welfare Association worker appear the answers to today's questions over the need for continued support of the Community Chest.

While the citizen may question the necessity for a chest campaign at a time when virtually every able-bodied man is employed as a civilian or a member of the forces, and when service men's dependents secure an allowance, the need for social service work continues.

Of the 377 families who came to the Family Welfare Association during the first nine months of the year, 113 were families of men in the forces.

They brought innumerable problems. They sought salvation of homes threatened with disruption. They brought stories of children who refused obedience in the absence of soldier fathers. They brought pleas for advice from men anxious over the security of their families when they left for service.

War, the association found, did not rule out problems of disease, unhappy homes, the mistakes of adolescence and the sorrows of age. It intensified them.

Through the medium of the Family Welfare Association, skilled workers were able to untangle some of the snarled skeins of twisted family life.

The need for help continues for such work. It continues for maintenance of the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp, where last summer 75 mothers found rest and refreshment from the relative drudgery of housework and where 136 children gained strength and health.

The need continues for work among the maladjusted who, under careful treatment, can be re-established as useful members of society through the agency's aid.

Welfare workers are still picking up the pieces of World War I. To avoid a recurrence of such wreckage, they depend on the citizens for the financial support they secure through the medium of the Community Chest.

Egg Collection

A collection of British birds' eggs, various natural history specimens and Indian articles has been given to the Museum by Sidney Johnson, 990 Cowichan Street. It represents many English birds, including the nightingale, skylark, butcherbird, woodlark, turtle dove, guillemot and black-headed gull. One particularly interesting clutch of six eggs of the hedge sparrow contains one egg of the cuckoo, the bird that leaves its eggs for others to incubate.

Specimens representing the mammal, bird, amphibian and fish fauna of the Driftwood River district, north of Takla Lake, have been received from Mr. and Mrs. John F. Stanwell-Fletcher of Dimock, Pennsylvania.

The museum has also acquired a living specimen of the ribbed toad, an amphibian only once before found in Canada. The toad, which was collected near Hatzic on the Fraser River by Kenneth Graham of the Dominion Forest Insect Laboratory is now on exhibit.

A giant barnacle was donated by G. O. P. Davis, 633 Niagara Street.

Among recent anthropological gifts are a horn spoon found by Major H. Rycroft while excavating a basement near Rescue Bay, Oak Bay, and presented by W. J. MacAllan; a replica of a jadeite medicine man's bowl found near Hangey by John Montgomery, Vancouver, and a complete whale harpoon from the Major George Nicholson.

BERLINERS WARNED OF HARD TIMES

BERLIN (AP)—Propaganda Minister Goebbels in a published appeal to Berlin residents has pointed to "the coming of certainly not easy weeks," and asked them to "keep your heads high and never give in."

"I know you have to work hard today," he wrote. "You must all work as never before. Your wives sometimes stand for hours before stores in order to buy some vegetables. Your children frequently are sent into the country and separated from you for months."

"Sometimes you have to go without a glass of beer, sometimes without cigarettes."

"Then because necessary hands are not available, you have to shovel coal; then at night go into air raid protection cellars and, after two hours' sleep, return to hard work."

"That is the way it is in many cities of the nation and in some even worse."

The Hallowe'en Season in Europe

ACCEPT LEGION OFFER OF AID

The Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion will be invited to carry out the program arranged for the visit of 50 men and three officers of H.M.S. Warspite here on November 29 and 30, according to a decision reached by the city celebrations committee Tuesday.

The committee, meeting with the mayor, considered the letter from the legion criticizing entertainment of visiting servicemen by the city as unnecessary expenditure and accepted the group's offer to take over such activities.

Mayor McGavin directed the following letter to the legion at the close of the meeting:

"The City Council is glad to accept your kind offer to look after any necessary entertainment of visiting men in uniform. It is presumed this also applies to the forces stationed in this area. We will be pleased to make suggestions from time to time regarding visiting naval personnel. We are not unmindful of the fact that, in the past, we have received excellent co-operation and financial assistance from the Naval Veterans Branch of the Canadian Legion.

"We have already invited a party from H.M.S. Warspite to visit Victoria for the week-end of November 29 to 30, and the invitation has been accepted. A program has been arranged which entails an expenditure of some $400 to $600, and if you are prepared to take care of the arrangements and either amend them or add to them it will be greatly appreciated. We will turn the party over to you on arrival. If your representative will call at my office I will out-

Prisoners of War To Get Parcels

It is getting close to the time now for mailing Christmas parcels to prisoners of war in enemy territory and the post office today reminded Canadians that parcels for prisoners of war may be sent only once in three months. "Only people designated as 'next of kin' in the army records are allowed to send parcels directly through the post office," an official said.

"These parcels may be sent only once in three months. They must not weigh more than 11 pounds and must be carefully packed so the work of examining authorities is facilitated." Senders must follow regulations to the letter to be sure their parcels arrive.

Post office officials explained that "every Canadian, British, Dominion or colonial prisoner-of-war in enemy territory now is receiving a 10-pound parcel of food a week from the Red Cross organization."

These parcels go forward automatically from the Red Cross and families may feel assured that the prisoners are receiving these food parcels, it was stated.

In parcels sent out personally, a list in duplicate of the contents of the parcel should be included and should also bear the name and address of the prisoner and the name and address of the sender. These forms may be obtained by writing to the chief postal censor, Ottawa.

Victoria Girls in First Class at Toronto for Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force

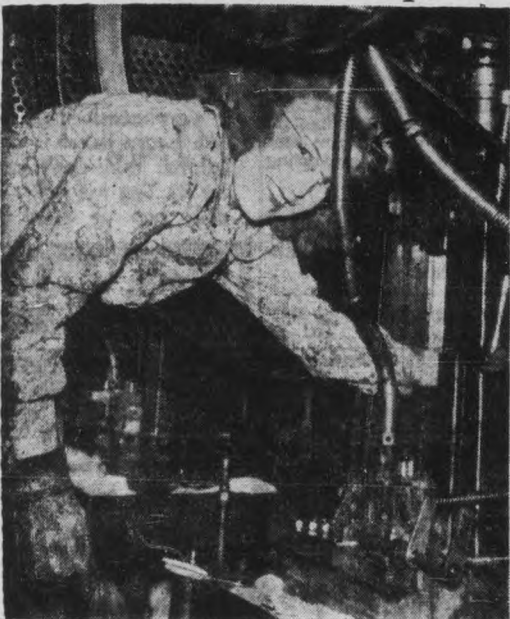

Barracks life has begun for these British Columbia girls (left), among the 150 who came to Toronto for a five-weeks' administration course in the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force. In front are Inga Hislop, M. Acland, Marion Downes and Eileen Macdonald; in the back row, Mary Jackson, Mrs. F. Lester, Kay Milligan, Kathleen Hunter. Settling in at old Havergal College, Jean Taylor of Winnipeg (second left), one of the tallest girls, volunteered to take an upper bunk. At that, it takes two girls to boost her up—beds are regular R.C.A.F. issue. Jean was secretary to D. G. Potter, assistant deputy Attorney-General of Manitoba. Wet paint is a hazard at Havergal, where decorators are still hard at work. Margaret Acland of Victoria (third left), got a bit on her sleeve, but found a willing workman to help remove it. Stowing belongings neatly away in bedside cupboards and under bunks is an art still to be mastered by many of the girls. Muriel Wismer of Saskatoon, shown (right), is a school teacher, has a sister in Washington with the British embassy. Girls in this first class will be officers and noncommissioned officers.

Canadian Workmanship, Materials, Dollars and Women Produce Stream of Munitions for War in the Air

Millions of tracer bullets for aircraft and anti-aircraft machine guns are pouring in ever-increasing volume from the Defence Industries Ltd., plant somewhere in Quebec. Girls work beside the men in 116 precision operations required to produce a cartridge. This machine performs one stage in shaping the copper shell case.

Made in Canada are all the components of the cartridge, with the exception of a few minor chemicals. This machine is the rimmer, cutting cases to the right length, after shaping by the machine at left.

Final inspection is given the tracer bullets before they are packed for shipment. Each bullet gets hundreds of separate check-ups by government inspectors before being passed. Since February, 1940, this factory has produced 130,000,000 rounds of .303 ammunition, specializing in tracer bullets which enable the gunner to follow a fast-moving target.

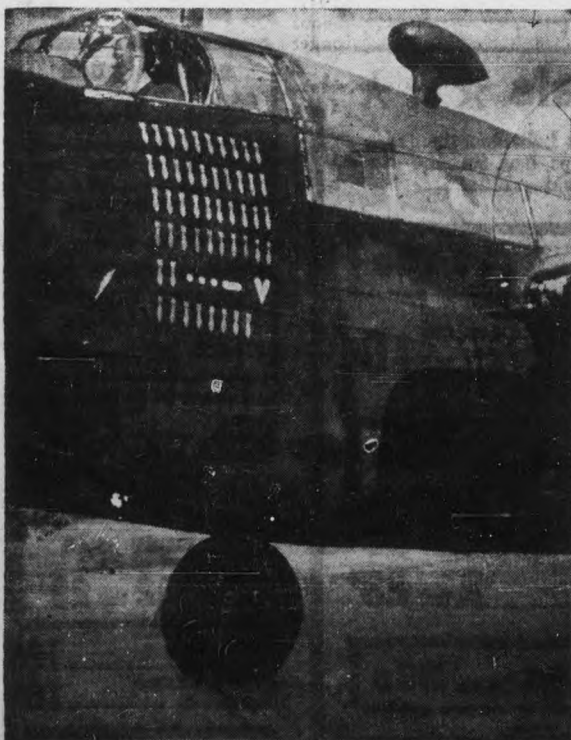

The bullet head is checked after the secret tracer mixture has been forced in under 90,000 pounds pressure. Mixtures are set to flare at varying ranges, for use in fast-moving air war.

Final stage is this girl's job of shellacking labels on the boxes before shipment. So efficient are this plant's methods that 90 per cent of its production meet the exacting demands of aircraft ammunition, and Australian officials are studying the system.

First Graduate From Air Training Scheme Wins D.F.C.

This is a section of the Wellington bomber in which Flight-Lieut. John Gellner, a Czech airman, made dozens of raids on Germany. Each bomb painted on the fuselage represents one of those raids, during which Gellner won the D.F.C. Today, more of his compatriots, as well as airmen from the U.S., the Netherlands, and every part of the Empire, are in Britain to boost this record.

While Czech airmen trained in Canada were making themselves at home in Britain with hundreds of others in the huge contingent which has just landed overseas, No. 1 air observer school at Malton, Ontario, was honoring a Czech flier, who has already distinguished himself in battle. He is Flight-Lieut. John Gellner, first graduate of the Commonwealth air training scheme, who graduated at the top of the first class from Malton. He went overseas a year ago, has won the D.F.C., and this week saw a shield hung in his honor at the Malton school. He is shown here, right, with Squadron Leader E. R. Pounder, chief instructor, and W. W. Woollett, manager of Dominion Airways, the civilian organization which aids in training observers.

THE ONE WITH HIS PIPE IS PADDY FINUCANE, who was born in Dublin just over 21 years ago. A week before his last birthday he brought down his 21st enemy aircraft. The others are some of his comrades in the famous 452 squadron of the R.A.F. Paddy was awarded a second bar for his Distinguished Flying Cross recently. His official name and rank: Flight-Lieutenant Brendon Finucane—but he'll always be Paddy to his admiring fliermates.

SENATOR NORMAN LAMBERT, formerly of Toronto, will head the National Labor Board to direct Dominion government's wages control board. It was announced in Ottawa.

THE BRITISH MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE will be much more careful in future since the minor hornet's nest it has gotten into over allegedly misspelling a Welsh name 58 letters long, in an announcement of land improvement there. The name is actually a number of words run together, forming a complete set of directions for finding the spot—which, however, is usually addressed simply "Llanfair, P.G." in Anglesey. The name means: "St. Mary's near the hazel pool, hard by the raging whirlpool, near St. Tisilio's, not far from the red cave."

Norwegians Greet Fliers From Britain

MONTREAL (CP)—The Norwegian information office here tells of the "amazing welcome" given to two British airmen, one reported to be a Canadian, whose plane crashed near Oslo in September during an air raid.

The office, which said its information had been checked by reliable Norwegian underground channels, continued:

"The plane fell into the fjord at Holtekilen, near Oslo, at about 5 o'clock in the morning. Two of the crew of four were killed, but the two survivors, aged 20 and 22, were brought to the land by a Norwegian volunteer air post.

"When they got ashore a huge crowd of people had already collected, and they gave the fliers a great ovation. Young girls rushed up and embraced the airmen, smiling and weeping at the same time. Everybody in the crowd seemed to have brought flowers from their gardens, which they showered on the airmen.

P.O. J. R. McDONALD has just completed his leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McDonald, 631 Langford Street. He was presented his wings by the Duke of Windsor at Clarendon, Alta., October 5. Born in Victoria, P.O. McDonald received his early education at St. Louis College. He was well known in athletic circles, starting in rowing, rugby and basketball. He joined R.C.A.F. last February and will go overseas as a bomber pilot.

"The two Englishmen were taken in a car to Baerum hospital, and another car followed behind, filled with flowers. The journey to the hospital was like a triumphal procession, with more and more people joining in as the cars passed along. People brought clothing and fruit, chocolate and other luxuries which can only be obtained with great difficulty in Oslo today.

"The reception at the hospital was even more enthusiastic. Before the airmen could be put to bed they had to shake hands with hundreds of people. Up till now no Germans had been visible, and the whole demonstration had gone on without interference.

"Some German soldier now arrived, and were obviously in a state of great annoyance at the behavior of the Norwegian people.

ple. One of the German soldiers said: 'I would rather be in the hottest spot in Russia than in this brutal country.'

"People continued to stream up to the hospital with gifts, but the Germans turned them away and refused to allow the Englishmen to receive any more visitors. All patients in the hospital sent their flowers and fruits to the pilots' room."

The account said the plane was forced down by engine trouble.

Two other raids, it added, also touched off the patriotic demonstrations.

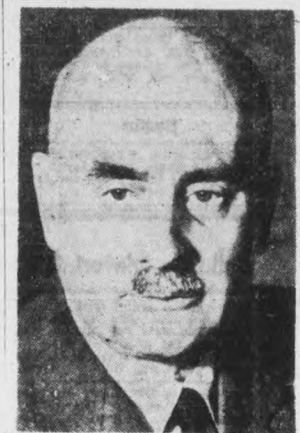

IN ENGLAND—Capt. R. D. Coddington, R.C.A.M.C., according to a cable received by his wife at 2607 Cavendish Avenue, has arrived in England. Dr. and Mrs. Coddington and their three children spent the past year in Victoria prior to his leaving for Overseas.

Arf A Mo' Party To Entertain R.A.F.

The 'Arf A Mo' Concert Party of the Army and Navy Veterans will entertain the R.A.F. men at Patricia Bay Thursday night.

Transportation arrangements have been made for the troupe to leave their Wharf Street headquarters at 7.

The new show, with a 13-piece band, sound pictures in technicolor and unique lighting effects, hopes to make this season's entertainment tops for the men in the forts on Vancouver Island.

AIR VICE-MARSHAL HAROLD EDWARDS has been appointed air officer commanding the R.C.A.F. in Britain. This move makes available Air Commodore F. L. Stevenson, who has had more than a year's operational experience in the war zone, available to succeed Air Commodore A. E. Godfrey of the Western Air Command, Victoria. Air Vice-Marshal Edwards has been member for personnel at air force headquarters, Ottawa.

KILLED IN ACTION

TORONTO (CP)—Cpl. Ernest Frederick Daw of Toronto, a member of the Royal Marines, has been killed in action while serving on H.M.S. Ajax, it has been learned here.

MAJ.-GEN. L. F. PAGE, D.S.O., has arrived at Camp Debert to take command of the 4th Canadian Division. He toured Canada in recent weeks inspecting his units, which he found in "top shape," he said. Gen. Page has had 34 years' experience in Canadian military work.

ACTOR JOINS R.A.F.

LONDON (AP)—Rex Harrison, leading man on stage and screen, has been accepted as a commissioned officer of the R.A.F.—but the R.A.F. undertook to wait until the end of the run of "No Time for Comedy." Barring resumption of heavy German air raiding, theatrical quarters said the play probably would continue well into the new year.

'Tex' Rankin's Son Joins R.C.A.F.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dale W. Rankin, 18-year-old son of "Tex" Rankin, famed United States stunt flyer, "can't wait for the United States to get in the war," so he has come up to Canada with his pal, Jay Q. Taylor, to join the R.C.A.F.

The two, whose homes were at Tulare, Calif., made application at recruiting headquarters of the R.C.A.F. here, and air force officials said they might be accepted by Thursday.

Dale has been flying for the past two years and has more than 200 hours to his credit, but says he's not as good as his father yet. His companion has 35 hours flying to his credit.

Radium-like products of the atom-smashing cyclotron have proved helpful in reducing red blood cell count in a deadly disease in which red cells overcrowd the body.

Australian Awarded V.C.

CANBERRA (AP)—Prime Minister John Curtin announced Tuesday the Victoria Cross had been awarded to Pte. J. H. Gordon of West Australia for conspicuous gallantry in the Syrian campaign.

Pte. Gordon single-handedly attacked an enemy machine-gun post, which had been bringing an Australian attack to a standstill. Five Australians had been killed when Gordon braved the continuous fire, crept forward and then dashed into the heavily-fortified post, killing four of the machine-gunners with the bayonet and capturing the position.

Gordon's action demoralized the defenders and enabled the Australians to proceed. Through the night and the following day Gordon fought with equal gallantry.

He was the third Australian to receive the coveted V.C. since the war began.

SCREEN AND STAGE STARS ON TONIGHT

STABILIZATION OF PRICES AND WAGES

Your Country asks your loyal support of this necessary Wartime Measure

TWO NEW CONTROLS have now become essential in Canada's wartime design for living. These are:

(1) Control of Prices

Commencing November 17, 1941, there may be no increase in the prices of goods and services generally unless absolutely necessary and authorized by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

(2) Control of Wages

No employer, with certain limited exceptions, may increase the basic wage rates paid to his employees unless authorized by a Board on which the Government, employers and employees are represented. But after February 15, 1942, every employer, with the same exceptions, will be obliged to pay a cost of living bonus and to adjust this bonus every three months.

Action Necessary to Stop Inflation

This Government action has been taken to prevent the inflation we knew in the last war, and its subsequent depression, unemployment and suffering.

Every housewife knows that prices are rising, and rising prices, unless controlled, will make it more costly and difficult to finance the war. Rising prices, unchecked, will spread confusion in industry and trade; will hinder production and proper distribution of supplies; will make the cost of living rise more rapidly than wages and salaries; will lessen the value of savings; will result in hardship for almost everyone, and especially those with small incomes. And the result of uncontrolled inflation, after the war, when prices drop, will again be depression and unemployment. Prices cannot be controlled without control of wages. Excess profits are, and will continue to be, under rigid control.

Coverage of Wages Stabilization Order

The Order is applicable to the following employers:

- 1—Every employer normally subject to the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act.
- 2—Every employer engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war, or war supplies, or the construction of defence projects.

Whole-Hearted Support Required

Your Government knows that this policy, as it affects labour, industry, commerce, and agriculture, demands a degree of restriction to which Canadians are not accustomed, and is directly a wartime measure. It will demand self-discipline and self-control. It will need the whole-hearted support of every one who has the well-being of his fellow citizens at heart. But by loyal co-operation, Canadians can have much more assurance that the fears, sense of insecurity, the suffering and profiteering which inflation always brings, will neither interfere now in the winning of this war, nor in the recovery and reconstruction of Canada and the Canadian way of living after the war is over.

Issued under the authority of
Hon. N. A. McLARTY,
Minister of Labour.

"GOVERNMENT LIQUOR ACT"
(Section 25)
Notice of Application for Consent to Transfer of Beer License

Notice is hereby given that on the 21st day of November next, the undersigned intends to apply to the Liquor Control
Board for consent to transfer of Beer License No. 5418, issued in respect of premises being part of a building known as Royal Ensign Hotel, 17 Mile, Boule Road, situated in Sooke District, upon the lands described as part Section 118, Sooke District, Victoria Land Registration District, in the Province of British Columbia, from the Administrator of the estate of Mary Elizabeth Jackson, deceased, to Edith Mary Wilson of Sooke, British Columbia, the transferee.

Dated at Victoria, B.C., this 17th day of October, 1941.

EDITH MARY WILSON,
Applicant and Transferee.

1,400 Miners Idle
In Nova Scotia

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (CP)—
Fourteen hundred miners in three collieries operated by the Cumberland Railway and Coal Company here remained idle today in sympathy with the strike of a group of men working No.
98 well because of grievances between themselves and their overman.

The striking men claimed the overman would not pay them for timbering the mine. When they refused to work today, the majority of the company's employees walked away from their jobs in sympathy.

Howard Tattler, district board member of the United Mine Workers, said the walkout was at variance with the decision of a union meeting Tuesday night when the miners decided not to stop work until union officials had investigated the grievances.
He added the men would have to return to work before the union would begin the investigation.

Chicago Black Hawks have plucked another goalie from Evelth, Minn., the home of such starry netminders as Frank Brimek, Sam Lo Presti and Mike Karakas. The newcomer is Dempsey Klun. Klun and John Mayasich, a centre, are recent graduates of Evelth High School.
Manager Paul Thompson of the Hawks says he will option the newcomers to a club in the American Association for seasoning.

Greenberg Receives
World Series Cash

DETROIT (AP)—Hank Green- berg, Detroit Tigers' outfielder, who now is a $50-a-month corporal in the United States army, got $167.46 of world series money
Tuesday.

Greenberg was one of 32 players and team officials who split $5,927.31 in series cash on the basis of a fourth-place tie with Cleveland Indians. Nine other Tigers received smaller shares.

The outfielder, expected to be released from the army within the next few months, was drafted last May 7.

MARX BROTHERS

IN 'BIG STORE'

The Marx Brothers are at it again! For an hour and a half they rock audiences at the Atlas Theatre during their latest musical funfest, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Big Store." With a lavish program of five musical numbers and comedy sequences on a par with the best Marx efforts of the past, the picture proved one of the season's outstanding pieces of entertainment.

'Return of Dr. X'
At York Tomorrow

Horror roles such as his part with the graveyard make-up in Warner Bros.' "The Return of Doctor X," which is to show at the York Theatre tomorrow, are the hardest for Humphrey Bogart to play, according to that actor.

"It isn't that I react to the sinister atmosphere with which they surround these roles, or get to worrying about the trying things they make me do," Bogart says, "But because I look around me and see so many solemn faces, and always want to do something that will break up the tension with a laugh."

Bogart regards his attitude as a weakness which he has tried and failed to conquer since his boyhood.

filmed from the widely-read novel by A. J. Cronin, and hailed as the greatest picture ever filmed in England.

Dealing with the lives of Welsh coal miners, their work underground, the efforts of an earnest young miner and student to better their conditions, it is climaxed by a mine disaster in which tons of water inundate hundreds of men, while others, caught in stone pockets, are doomed.

DOMINION THEATRE
Jane Withers recently refused
$50,000 for her famous collection of dolls. Almost simultaneously with the offer the little actress received her 1,800th doll. It came from Mrs. Dan Jones, an 80-year-old woman. The doll itself is 48 years old.

More than 200 dolls have been added to the Withers collection in the last year. Twenty-five of these dolls, including one that is 150 years old, are being used in "Her First Beau," the Columbia comedy in which Jane is being starred with Jackie Cooper at the Dominion Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE
In some of the exterior shots in
"Major Barbara," Gabriel
Pascal's new motion picture production of the George Bernard Shaw play, currently at the Capitol Theatre, the more observant members of the audience should be able to detect specks in the sky which look like distant clouds or small, stationary birds. As it happens, they are neither. Those spots you see in "Major Barbara" are part of England's great balloon barrage, and the film's only visual evidence of the fact that it was produced under fire.

RIO THEATRE
It was Mack Gordon who was describing how new song titles and lyrics were created. He and Harry Warren had just written five tunes for Alice Faye, Don Ameche and Carmen Miranda, who are starring in 20th Century-Fox's Technicolor production of "That Night in Rio," now at the Rio Theatre. Gordon, one of the most prolific writers along Tin Pan Alley, continued to explain how the title and lyrics for the picture was conceived.</

Baby Swordfish Have Barbs But No Swords

If you saw a baby swordfish in the sea, you might not think it amounted to much. A new-hatched swordfish is only about one-fifth of an inch long. Even after the baby swordfish is a week or two old, it does not look extra-interesting. It has no sword.

The jaws of a little swordfish are of equal length. As the months go by, it grows barbs around its body, and these help keep other fish from gobbling it up.

Big changes later take place. The swordfish loses its barbs, but its upper jaw grows out. In other words, what we call a sword comes into being.

The breeding habits of swordfish are not known completely. Yet it appears that many, if not

Swordfish, caught on hook, rams nearby boat

most, of the swordfish around the Atlantic shores of this continent were hatched from eggs laid in the Mediterranean Sea, chiefly near the island of Sicily.

Full-grown swordfish have been checked during journeys they have made across the Atlantic and through the Strait of Gibraltar. Little breeding of true swordfish has been observed on this side of the ocean.

When I make that statement, I am not thinking of relatives of the true swordfish. Marlins and sailfish also have "swords," but their breeding habits are different.

A true swordfish usually is from seven to 12 feet long when full-grown. The weight most often is from 100 to 300 pounds.

Extra-large swordfish may reach a length of from 13 to 20 feet, and a weight of from 500 to 750 pounds. The sword may be from three to four feet long. Swordfish relatives known as marlins sometimes weigh half a ton or more.

Swordfish look for herrings and mackerel. Finding a school of such fish, they come up from below and strike right and left with their swords. Before the attack is finished, they may kill dozens—or even hundreds—of the fish they attack. Later they take their time in eating their victims.

Now and then a swordfish strikes against an ocean vessel. The British Museum in London and other museums contain heavy planks taken from the bottoms of ships which these fish have "attacked." Implanted in the planks are swords. After making such a mistake, the fish usually breaks off its sword and swims away.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—The other day one of your women correspondents asserted that she has discovered that married men are much more interesting than single men. She says that they are more cultured and more interested in things of world-wide importance than are the unmarried. I rise to the defence of the bachelor. As a matter of fact, I offer this same indictment of single womanhood. A man who is not interested in jiggerbugging, who merely enjoys night clubs occasionally and doesn't care to live in them, and who is culturally inclined is a total washout to the average girl. If there are any young, unmarried women who are interested in a discussion of Balkan politics, books, the theatre or voodooism in Haiti I have never met them or suspected their existence. If such exist, they would be Exhibit A in a museum. My experience on the subject of married versus unmarried women has been about this: If you ask a single girl to take a walk in the twilight she is apt to think you are barmy. An evening at home discussing a book, sociological conditions or reading poetry over a bottle of sherry and she calls up all her friends and weeps over the phone warning them away from the dire fate which has befallen her. Tell a single girl of the Kitty Foyle, white-collar type that you actually enjoy going to concerts and finding queer little restaurants with foreign food, and worst of all, that you delight in writing poetry and trying to find some beauty in the abstract meaning of life, and it is the firing squad for you against embattled femininity's war of polite ostracism.

Of course, I'll admit that the married man is more interesting to women on the financial side because he has generally arrived in business and is able to offer more expensive entertainment than his single brother, who is apt to be more vagabondish and less opulent. So what about it? EDWARD.

Answer: What, indeed, unless the conclusion of your argument is that matrimony is a mill for polishing up rough diamonds and that it makes both men and women more interesting. I think this is true, because whatever else marriage does it deflates our ego, it broadens our understanding and sympathies and gives us experiences that are an education in themselves.

DOROTHY DIX.
